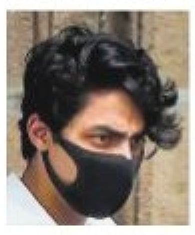
Aryan Khan, two others may walk out of jail today

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai



THE Bombay High Court on Thursday granted bail to actor Shah Rukh Khan's son Aryan, 25 days after his arrest by the NCB in the cruise ship drugs haul case. The 23-year-old is expected to walk out of the Arthur Road jail on Friday after the HC gives its operative order with bail conditions. Justice N W Sambre also granted bail to co-accused Arbaaz Merchant and Munmun Dhamecha. "I could have given the order tomorrow, but I gave it today," the judge said.

After Additional Solicitor General Anil Singh concluded his arguments around 4.10 pm, Aryan's counsel Mukul Rohatgi started his rejoinder. But Justice Sambre cut short his arguments after 15 minutes, tossing the case papers towards his staff saying, "All three applications are allowed." P10

Centre working to push tourism along Pak, China borders: Minister

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

IN an ambitious move, India is planning to promote tourism along its borders with both Pakistan and China, with whom the country shares tenuous relations.

Areas where there is ceasefire on the India-China border and the Wagah Border will be promoted as tourism sites, Union Minister of State for Tourism Ajay Bhatt announced on Thursday.

Speaking on the sidelines of a two-day conference of tourism and culture ministers of southern regions, being held in the city, Bhatt said not many know of the Heap of Stones, the Om Linga or the Rock of Peace on the India-China border, and also about homes along either sides of the border which share friendly relations. Road connectivity is also being improved for tourists to reach Kailash Mansarovar, he said.

THE Centre on Thursday squarely blamed the state for the non-inclusion of any of the pilgrim destinations or tourism circuits under the Prasad and Swades Darshan schemes initiated by the Centre in 2014. Karnataka has been unable to furnish proper details, claimed Rupinder Brar, Additional Director General, Union Ministry of Tourism. SC clears block on NEET UG results

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

IN a decision that brought relief to lakhs of candidates across the nation, the Supreme Court on Thursday directed the medical entrance exam conducting body, the National Testing Agency (NTA), to release the NEET 2021 result for undergraduate courses.

The court stayed a Bombay High Court order that put the results on hold, against which the NTA had sought relief.

It was hearing a matter regarding NEET re-exam for two candidates from Solapur, Vaishanavi Bhopali and Abhishek Shivaji. The NTA accepted that there was a mistake by invigilators resulting in a mismatch of answer sheets of six candidates.

The two students lost time on the exam day because of the mix-up. However, the other four students, completed their papers and got good scores, informed Solicitor General Tushar Mehta.

A bench of Justices L Nageswara Rao, Sanjiv Khanna and B R Gavai said, "We cannot delay results for 16 lakh students. We need to balance interests."

The bench said it will see what is to be done for the two students, adding it will examine their grievance in detail later. The court asked the NTA to come back with a plan for the aggrieved students.

Last week, a division bench of the Bombay High Court had asked the NTA to re-conduct the exam for the two candidates. P9

Hospital for blanket ban on crackers

Minto Hospital has treated 638 eye injuries due to crackers since 2008

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

MINTO Ophthalmic Hospital, a government hospital in Bengaluru, has cautioned the government to impose a blanket ban on firecrackers. Hospital authorities have recommended the government to make Deepavali only a festival of lights, and not of fireworks.

Since 2008, the hospital has treated 638 eye injuries during Deepavali. Last year, the hospital had 23 patients with eye injuries, among whom three lost their vision completely. An approximate 40 per cent of patients have been bystanders, with a higher percentage of male patients and young boys than women.

Even green firecrackers, albeit more environment friendly, are a hazard, because they contain chemicals such as barium and potassium in order to combust. "There is only a 30 per cent reduction in chemicals as compared to regular firecrackers, as well as a decrease in the amount of sound and light emitted, but they are equally capable of damaging people's eyes. The skin can burn due to the heat and chemicals can still cause a reaction in the eyes, if green firecrackers injure a person. Regular crackers emit poisonous gases, while green ones emit water vapour," said Dr B L Sujatha Rathod, Director of Minto Hospital.

If fireworks have to be used, the hospital recommended bursting them in a large, spacious ground. They suggested to use a long taper to light, instead of bending down to ignite the firecrackers. The hospital also asked citizens to immerse the fireworks in a bucket of water, before disposing. The hospital, established in 1896, is one of the oldest eye speciality hospitals in the world. They treat patients with eye injuries due to firecrackers every year.

> A person who suffers an eye injury due to firecrackers should not wash the eye with water, or self-medicate. Instead, you must cover the eye gently with a handkerchief, and rush to hospital

Snakes give Arkavathy residents the shivers

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

UNLIKE many parts of Arkavathy Layout, the 19th Block, comprising nearly 1,000 sites in Chalegere area, is free from litigation. However, the complete absence of basic amenities in this layout, formed by Bangalore Development Authority in 2006, has made daily life a struggle for residents.

Add to this, snakes have become a regular feature due to overflowing drains and piled-up garbage.

"The reptile menace has become so rampant during the recent rains that a few families on the ground floor spent much of the night on the terrace as they feared that snakes will enter their homes," Vimalesh Chinnaswamy, a resident, told TNIE. There are complaints galore. Kishore R, Joint Secretary of the 19th Block Arkavathy Layout Landowners and Allottees Association, said, "The main problem is the wrong design from the drain to the Rajakaluve. The latter is at an elevated location which forces water to flow in the reverse direction when it rains, flooding the areas fully." He also added that the newly-built houses here had not got regular electricity connections and people were paying bills ranging between Rs 6,000 and Rs 7,000 a month.

Amar K, a teacher, said that whenever it rains, water floods the roads up to 2 feet and people cannot step out.

BDA Executive Engineer-North, G Kumar said it had already paid the BWSSB Rs 75 lakh, two years ago to lay the infrastructure of Arkavathy.

Complain to Palike on statues, flagpoles: HC

ENS @Bengaluru

IN response to a public interest litigation (PIL), seeking directions to remove the unauthorised statues and flagpoles in Bengaluru, the Karnataka High Court on Thursday asked the petitioner to submit the complaint to the Chief Commissioner of BBMP.

The petitioner, KS Suresh, filed a PIL citing that the unauthorised flagpoles and statues are causing an inconvenience to the public at large, and have caused a traffic hazard. V Sreenidhi, the counsel arguing for BBMP, submitted that no specific allegations have been made with respect to which statues are causing a problem for the public. He added that some of these statues have been in the city for over 20-25 years. The BBMP would be willing to look into the matter and take remedial measures if the specificities are mentioned.

Taking note of the submission, the division bench of Chief Justice Ritu Raj Awasthi, and Justice Sachin Shankar Magadum directed the petitioner to give specific instances of the statues and flagpoles causing an inconvenience, within 10 days to BBMP.

The court observed that the Chief Commissioner of BBMP should enquire into the matter, and take apt remedial measures.

Zoos not the place for wild, rescued animals

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

Zoos and rescue centres are becoming jails for wild, rescued animals, fear forest department officials and conservationists. This should end and proper guidelines must be chalked out to reduce animals becoming permanent inmates at rescue centres, they say.

But that is not the big worry. Another matter of concern that has caught the attention of forest officials and conservationists is the discrimination among carnivores with regard to housing -- all rescued tigers are sent to Mysuru, and all leopards are sent to Bannerghatta, said a veterinarian, seeking anonymity. Due to this, Bannerghatta rescue centre has over 35 rescued leopards, and Mysuru has 8-10 rescued tigers.

In three days, three leopards were rescued from man-animal conflict sites from different locations around Bengaluru. On October 21, a wild injured tiger was shifted from Bandipur Tiger Reserve to the Mysuru rescue centre. Due to space constraint in the Mysuru centre, an injured tiger captured at Nagarahole Tiger Reserve was sent to Bannerghatta centre.

"As per Central Zoo Authority and Ministry of Environment, Forests and Climate Change norms, rescued wild animals cannot be kept on display in zoos. So these animals stay in captivity all their life. Due to lack of understanding of wildlife and sheer enthusiasm, farmers and villagers nowadays approach the forest department will leopard cubs, some just 5-10 days old. They say they found them whining in paddy, sugarcane and other fields.

But they fail to understand that their mother must have left the cubs to go on a hunt for food, or find a more secure place. Since these cubs are imprinted by humans, they cannot be left in the wild and such young ones do not survive, so they too continue to stay in the rescue centre. The cubs are in Bannerghatta," said a forest department official.

Veterinarians point that as per protocol, animals who are severely injured, or whose canines or claws are broken, are not able to hunt and are housed in rescue centres. "All animals being shifted from the wild, or rescue centres should stop," a senior forest vet said.

Public data free for researchers

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

KARNATAKA is now giving free access of data from government departments, such as education and health to students for research purposes. The department of e-governance, is hosting an umbrella platform on its 'Open Data Portal', which will have a stream of raw data sets that researchers can use for every department. Anybody from the country, who is registered and authorised to do research can use this facility.

"Research organizations like IISc, IIT-B can have an MoU with us, for specific data sets that they need, for instance from the education or the women and child welfare department, and we can provide the same. This is applicable even if the data cannot be publicly provided on the portal free of cost", said Shreevyas H M, Project Director, Mahiti Kanaja, Digilocker, National Academic Depository and Karnataka Open Data Initiative.

"The public data-sets can be shared with students, research organisations, NGO's or other government departments, and citizens. If some research organisation is working on a specific problem, and want a particular data-set that is not available in the portal, they can sign an MoU with the department, and we share the data with them through API," Shreevyas said.

He added that the data-sets can be sold by a department to start-ups. There is still contention on whether public data should be made available for private firms, the departments are yet to decide on a suitable revenue model.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

29th October : I was looking at a wonderful image of the universe yesterday. It showed the way in which galaxies, each containing billions of stars, grow along filaments of energy, not unlike veins or arteries in a body. It reminded me of theories that the universe is one single, unimaginably huge, living organism.

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Travel and change bring variety, but you might be too concerned with family affairs to notice frivolities. With Jupiter expressing a positive interest in all areas of your life, there's bound to be an all-round improvement, especially in social situations.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
Conditions at work could be giving cause for concern, although it may be difficult to put your finger on exactly what seems to be the matter. It's the current lunar situation which is responsible for bringing more unsettled circumstances, but you'll ride out the storm.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
Continuing financial influences of a slightly shady nature should caution you to keep everything absolutely crystal clear and above-board. The last thing you want to do at this stage is commit yourself to hidden costs. In that case, I'd recommend you seek support from the people who matter most.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
A partner may call you to account for your actions, so make sure you have a convincing story ready. Check through past promises to see that you've left nothing uncompleted. Only once all unfinished emotional business has been tidied up can you move forward with confidence.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
It's a busy day, with rapidly-moving planets spurring you on to more and more activity. Keep a watchful eye on a number of interesting investments as partners will be making financial demands. Once you have settled money matters, you'll be ready to set your romantic priorities.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Activities from long ago could become a source of renewed interest. However, you should be under no illusions that you can get away without paying your dues, as your financial stars are looking decidedly shaky at the moment. You can delay the inevitable, though!

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
It would be foolish to pretend that everything that takes place in your personal life will be easy, or that partners will welcome your plans with open arms. Try to be tolerant of other people's changing moods. Otherwise, you will find that a partner may pull the rug from under your feet.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
The fact that you might be feeling under the weather today, reminds you that this is a useful time of year to focus on your physical health and to take whatever steps are necessary to get back into shape, including giving up all those bad habits.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Domestic disharmony may be unfortunate but can produce positive results if it forces you to face up to the underlying causes of discontent. Exactly what have you been up to make people feel the way they do? And is there anything you can do to turn the clock back? I think so!

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
It's a confusing day to go travelling, which means that it's up to you to be crystal clear about all instructions and directions. Guard against misunderstandings by sticking to the facts. And do make absolutely certain that you give partners the benefit of the doubt in return.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Try to realise that what has been agreed recently is still private, and is not due to be made public just yet. Therefore you still have time to ask for suitable amendments before everything is signed and sealed. I think you have a right to expect partners to take your desires into account.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Although this is quite a busy day astrologically speaking, perhaps you'll be able to enjoy life at a slower pace than over the last few days. Don't let a financial situation get out of hand, though, especially if other people's cash is at stake.

STATE RAMPS UP VAX DRIVE TO KEEP DELTA VARIANT AT BAY

50pc ignore second dose; micro planning is key for maximum vaccination coverage

CHETANA BELAGERE @ Bengaluru

A health worker administers Covid-19 vaccine to a young woman inside a dedicated van in Mysuru on Thursday

A day after Union Health Minister Mansukh Madaviya asked state governments to ramp up vaccination and ensure that second doses are administered in poor performing districts, officials from the Karnataka health department and experts from the Technical Advisory Committee (TAC) brainstormed to ensure maximum vaccination coverage in the state.

The state plans to rope in all government and private departments, religious leaders, mutt seers and local political leaders to spread awareness on the importance of vaccination and ensure that every person is jabbed. "The focus will be on administering the second dose. We have already started the mobile vaccination unit in BBMP limits. This is the 'Har Ghar Dastak' scheme, where an ambulance is stationed near crowded localities, and healthcare workers knock on each door and vaccinate people. This will be done across all districts on priority, and is the right strategy," explained Commissioner for Health and Family Welfare Randeep D.

Meanwhile, TAC experts also discussed possible strategies and micro planning, which the state government needs to do, to ensure people in districts with low coverage take the vaccine.

"It is a cause of worry that at least 50 per cent has opted out of the second dose. There are some districts where people have not even taken the first dose. Vaccine hesitancy due to misinformation could be one reason. Wherever there is vaccine hesitancy, we should reach out to people through social, religious and other organisations," said a TAC expert, adding that micro planning is the key.

The state government has also planned an SMS campaign, where local PHCs have a list of eligible vaccine candidates. Reminder messages will be sent to them, with dates of their second dose. When they fail to comply, healthcare workers will call them up, and even visit their homes.

Meanwhile, experts expressed concern over 'Kannadakkagi Naavu' programme in which hundreds of people assembled to sing Kannada songs ahead of Kannada Rajyotsava across the state.

Samples of students from Madikeri, who tested positive for Covid-19, will be sent for genome sequencing to trace any AY4.2 variant. Karnataka's genome sequencing committee will increase surveillance and analyse more samples to see if there are more cases of AY4.2, a sub-lineage of the Delta variant.

Confirming this, Health Commissioner Randeep said, "Samples mainly from clusters, including the Madikeri school, will be sequenced for the Delta variant sub-lineage. So far, there is no reason to panic as there are only two cases in Karnataka."

Meanwhile, experts from TAC remain tight-lipped on what exactly was discussed at Thursday evening's meeting, and said that gatherings like election rallies, weddings, funerals and festive shopping may be a cause of worry as the new variant has spread mostly in home clusters in countries like UK, Russia and Germany.

"Any situation which creates clusters should be avoided. Those who have not taken the vaccine should ensure they get both doses to avoid getting infected. Till now there is no sign of the third wave but we need to closely monitor the situation and continue with the restrictions that are in place," an expert from TAC said.

Covid victims' kin seek aid similar to UP

ENS @ Belagavi

THE family members of several government employees, who died of Covid-19 while on election duty during the byelection to Belagavi Parliamentary seat in April, have demanded compensation akin to the relief provided by the Uttar Pradesh government. The next of kin of Covid victims have submitted a memorandum to the government demanding ex-gratia. "Despite surge in Covid-19 cases in April and May, thousands of government employees in Karnataka, including employees of unaided and aided schools and colleges, were put on election duty as per the government order regardless of the danger posed to their lives,'' read the memorandum.

Referring to a letter by Deputy Commissioner of Belagavi to Election Commission, the memorandum said, "Of the 39 proposals received, only eight were recommended for compensation from Belagavi." A large number of employees contracted the virus while discharging election duty and many of them died, said Balachandra Jabshetti, who lost his wife, who was a teacher, to election duty. Jabshetti said, "It is surprising that, one one hand the DC claims lack of guidelines for awarding compensation and on the other, he recommends eight proposals for compensation. Will it not amount to discrimination?" he questioned.

The UP government extended ex-gratia of Rs 30 lakh to the kin of government employees who succumbed to Covid on duty during the panchayat elections.

WITH SCHOOLS REOPENING, COVID SAFETY, AWARENESS IN FOCUS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Primary Education Department has released Rs 268.21 lakh to government higher primary and senior secondary schools for creating awareness on Covid-19 protocols. Schools have been asked to create posters to remind students of the pandemic's prevalence -- posters such as 'Be aware of Covid-19,' 'Don't fear, protect yourself' and 'Keep safe from the virus'. Covid-19 will also be the theme for essay writing, slogan writing and art competitions.

However, this is just 50 per cent of the planned expenditure towards creating a safe and secure environment for students in 21,573 higher primary schools and 5,248 senior secondary schools. Meanwhile, a grant of Rs 895.46 lakh has been approved for taking up safety and confidence-building measures in 42,973 primary schools and Rs 105.58 lakh has been approved for 5,279 high schools. As part of these confidence-building measures, teachers, staff and head teachers are asked to wear masks at all times and ensure sanitisation of classrooms, besides following all the health department's guidelines without fail.

Students are asked to avoid public programmes, fairs and markets for the time being. They're also advised to change their masks every day and properly dispose of their one-time use masks. Students are also reminded to be cautious about their school transport and ensure physical distance.

Schools have also been asked to ensure that students are wearing masks and prevent grouping during lunch hours. Health camps are to be organised in schools and scientific waste management is to be established. The school management has to inform the health department in case of any student being symptomatic.

Students have been asked to wash hands before food and after using the washroom, and avoid handshakes. They are also told to keep off outside food that are kept in the open.

Kannada out of sight at south tourism meet

None of the other southern languages too found space; ministry officials admit to error

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

ON a day the entire state participated in the 'Kanandakkagi Naavu' programme, the local language found no place at the conference of tourism and culture ministers from the southern region, being held in Bengaluru.

The conference has been organised by the Union Ministry of Tourism to understand and showcase the rich culture and traditions of the eight southern regions — Karnataka, Tamil Nadu, Andhra Pradesh, Telangana, Kerala, Lakshadweep, Puducherry and Andaman and Nicobar Islands. But neither did Kannada, or for that matter, any of the other southern languages find any place on the boards of each of the regions put up at the venue.

That is not all. Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai gave the event a miss, which is being held for the first time in the city. This is the second such conference being held in the country, the first being of north-eastern regions which was held in Assam last month.

Folk artistes take a break after performing at the two-day conference of tourism and culture ministers of southern regions, in Bengaluru on Thursday | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

Agitated by the absence of Kannada at the venue, state tourism officials took up the matter with the Union ministry. They also pointed that this was being repeated multiple times and regional languages were not being given importance.

Replying to the query from the media of why Kannada was not included, Union Minister for Tourism, Culture and Development of North Eastern Region (DoNER), G Kishan Reddy admitted that it was a human error, but justified it saying the event being held in Karnataka is notable in itself.

This, however, did not go down well with Karnataka Tourism Minister Anand Singh, who said, "Immediately after I came to the venue, I saw it and pointed it out to the ministry officials. They accepted their mistake and apologised for it. They also promised to correct it immediately and change the boards. But, as a minister of the state, I do not accept it. Importance should be given to the language and it is our responsibility. The Union ministry, in fact, tried to turn tables on us stating that we should have informed them a day prior. But we are not involved in organising the event, we are also delegates here," he said. Interestingly, after Singh pointed out that Kannada was missing, it was rectified on the digital platform.

Develop Hampi as pilot project under Central scheme: Anand Singh

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AFTER having made several requests to the central government to speed up work on improvement and restoration of the world heritage and UNESCO-protected site Hampi, Karnataka Tourism Minister Anand Singh on Thursday submitted another memorandum to the Union Tourism Ministry to take it up as a pilot project under the iconic tourism scheme. Hampi is one of the 19 sites declared as iconic destinations by the ministry.

Speaking at the conference of tourism and culture ministers of the southern region, Singh, who quoted from the memorandum, said that over the last 20 years, development is still in the nascent stage and most of the work has remained at the planning stage. "The buck has stopped at our table. I have visited all the places listed in the master plan prepared by the ministry and given many recommendations to the consultant teams. Hampi must be taken up as a pilot project under the scheme as this will set a benchmark," he said.

Addressing the gathering, he said, "Unlike other heritage sites, ours is a live site where pujas are performed daily. But after the sites were brought under the Archaeological Survey of India (ASI), many restrictions have been imposed and film shoots are not permitted. The last movie shot near the location was the Akshay Kumar-starrer 'Vikram Rathode'. But mid-way, the crew was asked to pack up. On July 7, 2011, the bazaar outside Virupaksha temple was cleared. It been 20 years but not even 20 pillars have been put up to create alternative livelihood for locals and improve the area. The Union ministry should promote the idea of adopting such sites as many corporates are keen to," he said.

Rupinder Brar, Additional Director General, Union Ministry of Tourism said adoption of sites under the Monument Mitra scheme has already been started by the ministry which is tax-free for companies. But Singh pointed out that there is not enough promotion of the state's sites and insised that it should be done.

'Aim to celebrate culture of region'

"Wherever borders are vacated and there is a ceasefire, border tourism will be promoted. Kashmir is also included in the list," he said. While the Tourism ministry has identified four locations, the officials refrained from disclosing them stating that talks are still on with the Defence ministry to finalise them and take their approval. Normally, people witness the Beating the Retreat at the Wagah-Attari border, but there are more attractions and the plan is to promote more such spots. The culture and traditions of these places need to be showcased and understood. Bhatt said the purpose of tourism is to showcase the cultures of various regions and bring people together.

No one will be spared in Bitcoin scam, says Araga

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA Home Minister Araga Jnanendra on Thursday said that there was no question of protecting anyone involved in the Bitcoin scam.

Speaking to the media here on Thursday, Jnanendra said that the State Government has taken serious note of the offence and police investigations are underway. "We will go to the root of it. The CID is probing it," he added.

Jnanendra said that he cannot reveal anything more as the probe was underway. "I have certain information. But I cannot say anything more at this juncture as it may come in the way of the investigation. Whoever is involved in it... Be t politicians from any party... or of non-political background. No one will be spared. They will be brought to book. Investigation is going in the right direction. Our police has taken the issue seriously," he added.

On Wednesday, former chief minister and Congress leader Siddaramaiah had suspected the involvement of a few politicians in the scam. "There is information about the involvement of influential politicians of Karnataka in drugs and Bitcoin scam. It is concerning that the investigating officers are trying to close the case to help those politicians," Siddaramaiah had tweeted.

Reacting to this, Jnanendra said that as a former CM, Siddaramaiah should share any information he has concerning the scam with the police. "He should act in a responsible manner and not just merely tweet. This issue is beyond politics as it is related to the country's economy," Jnanendra added. He also urged the media and others to share any information they have about the scam to the police. "Even if police are involved, they will be punished. It is a serious offence," he added.

The CCB sleuths in January this year had seized Rs 9-crore worth Bitcoins from a Bengaluru-based hacker.

No faith in state, Central agencies: Cong leader

Bengaluru: Congress leader and former Karnataka Home Minister Ramalinga Reddy on Thursday expressed skepticism over the future of the Bommai government in the state as the PMO has sought a report on two influential leaders of the ruling party being allegedly involved in the multi-crore Bitcoin scam. " It was only after the PMO sought the report that the CCB had arrested Srikrishna alias Shreeki in the past and now some more heads may roll. But as the Opposition, we demand a judicial probe into the Rs10,000-crore scam as we have no faith in any of the state and central agencies," he said, adding that if the court instructs a probe by a retired judge the truth will come out, he said. "I too as a former home minister have information about the scam and if the truth comes out, if not the Bommai government, some heads within the ruling BJP may roll," he said. Meanwhile, KPCC president DK Shivakumar said, "It is suspected that names of several influential people, including politicians, industrialists and senior police officers have surfaced in the scam. I am shocked," he said.

Govt looking into extension of visa-on-arrival to 169 countries

Though the State Government has done a lot of work, certain components of the schemes are yet to be identified. "We are also waiting for what needs to be done. The work done by the government should be useful for the common people. The state government is not yet able to show that. They will make a presentation again and then clearance will be given," she said.

On the Swades Darshan scheme too, Rupinder said problems have been found and the proposals have been sent back to the state for review. Though he initially said the niggles will be sorted out, a visibly agitated Karnataka Tourism Minister Anand Singh said, "They should not have said that Karnataka failed. Instead, they should have said there are some technical glitches which need to be addressed," he insisted. "Four days ago, we held a meeting to discuss the Prasad scheme and the issue of duplication referred to by the Centre. We are also working on including the state's coastline under the Swades scheme."

Union Minister for Tourism, Culture and DoNER, G Kishan Reddy said, "To revive tourism in India, we will give five lakh free visas for tourists on a first-come basis. Extension of visa-on-arrival to 169 countries is also being looked into." He added that 20 mission officers are being appointed in different countries from where the maximum tourists come to India. The decision was taken after holding talks with tourism, foreign ministry, external affairs, cultural, home and defence ministry officials. "In the first phase, 20 countries have been listed. Senior officials are being appointed in embassies who will work on promoting tourist destinations and help in drawing bulk travellers," he said.

Reddy said the tourism policy is also being finalised and feedback from all states is being sought. Under this, financial assistance will also be given to states and tourist guides. He also stressed on the need for vaccination and said, "Without vaccination, tourism will not survive. Once Covid-19 comes down, air connectivity will also improve."

Notes for votes: Going rate Rs 1,500-3,000

BANSY KALAPPA
@ Bengaluru

WITH balloting just hours away in Sindagi and Hanagal, it is no surprise that cash bags have arrived, and distribution of money is in full swing. The cash volume is estimated to be about Rs 50-60 crore in each constituency.

Sources at ground zero report that money is flowing into some parts of the constituencies, and is a mere drizzle in other parts. Distribution was taken up by influential party functionaries operating in and around the constituencies, sources confirmed. Since bank transactions and withdrawal of large amounts are monitored, the cash is sourced from local businessmen and contractors.

One party has reportedly distributed about Rs 30-40 crore in each constituency, while another party has given away around Rs 10 crore.

Source say that one national party has divided its voters into three categories: A, B and C. Voters who are least likely to vote for the party figure in category 'A' and are being paid Rs 3,000-plus per vote, category 'B' are not traditional voters and the rate is Rs 2,500-plus per vote, while traditional voters are being paid Rs 1,500-2,000. Some large families have reportedly made a bonanza of Rs 25,000-30,000.

It's a sweat deal not only for voters, but for party workers as well, who are carrying home a precious booty after a fortnight of hard labour. Some workers who switched sides received up to Rs 1 lakh for their work.

CEO Election Commission Manoj Kumar Meena, who took over from former CEO Sanjeev Kumar, instructed officers and staff on ground zero to maintain strict vigil and surveillance. One official said they had stepped up vigil from Thursday.

KARNATAKA ASSEMBLY BYPOLLS DECIDE

Meanwhile, Janata Dal Secular leader H D Kumaraswamy told The New Indian Express that distribution of money had started, with at least Rs 30-50 crore changing hands in each constituency. He alleged that certain senior ministers were camping in resorts close by, and are part of the "distribution racket".

A contractor said to be close to one party was raided, and sources recalled that more than 60 raids were conducted during the 2018 and 2019 elections.

Policy to obtain land sale deed in 10-15 days on cards

BENGALURU: The State Government will frame a policy that will help manufacturing industries to obtain the sale deed of the land allotted to them in 10 to 15 days after they start setting up their units, said Industries Minister Murugesh Nirani. Addressing the Round Table Meet on 'Manufacturing in Karnataka' organised by the Indo-American Chamber of Commerce, Nirani said rules would be framed to ensure that the land price didn't exceed more than 15 to 20% of the actual value. "We will unveil a policy to help manufacturing industries get the sale deed of land allotted to them within 10 to 15 days after they start functioning. This will avoid delay in starting industrial projects and we are coming up with ground-breaking measures to fast track the process," Nirani said. He said that the state is targeting Rs 10 lakh crore investments in the next year's GIM.

Kannadigas should speak more in Kannada: CM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Hubballi

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Thursday said that like other regional languages, Kannada too was facing a lot of challenges owing to invasion from other languages.

Taking part in the 'Maatad Maatad Kannada' (Speak, speak Kannada) programme in the run up to Kannada Rajyotsava (November 1), Bommai said Kannada was facing challenges in all fields, and those who studied in Kannada medium were facing difficulties in finding jobs. "But the State Government is committed to securing the interests of all," he added.

Until a language maintains its originality and roots are entrenched , it cannot be negated, he said. To promote Kannada further, Bommai said, "We Kannadigas should speak more in Kannada and also encourage people speaking other languages to learn it. In fact, our elders have made the language resourceful and responsibility is on us to enrich it further for the next generation."

Bommai felt that modern technology was posing a big challenge to Kannada and in order to encourage children to learn the language, an advanced software was needed. "With the improved software, children could easily pursue their learning in any field in Kannada," he added. Stating that enough importance has been given to the mother tongue in the new National Education Policy, Bommai said the government had brought an ordinance making Kannada compulsory not only in primary or secondary education but also in degree level. "The matter is presently before the High Court. We will continue our struggle for it," he said, adding that the State Government is making a complete engineering course available in Kannada. "At least 15 colleges have come forward to offer degree courses in Kannada. They are teaching in Kannada and are giving degrees in Kannada," Bommai said.

Earlier, Bommai launched the "Geeta Gayana" programme and sang Kannada songs.

Language lessons for illiterate jailbirds

ENS@ Bengaluru

THIS Rajyotsava, a literacy plan will be put into action for prisoners and undertrials who don't know how to read and write Kannada. "We want prisoners who used thumb impression when they walked into jail, to sign the ledger while leaving," Home Minister Araga Jnanendra said.

Karnataka's 50 jails have over 16,000 inmates, and the Department of Prisons estimates that around 6,000 don't know how to read and write Kannada. Officials are doing a survey to get the exact number. Jnanendra said the Home department is involving literate inmates to teach prisoners who are illiterate. "We will pay them for teaching," he said. This will be done under the guidance of the Director-General and other officials, who have framed the curriculum. "We are also involving adult education committee members. It will be a novel programme to make prisoners literate, and we want to instil interest in learning, which will make them better people," he added.

Retired IPS officer ST Ramesh, former police chief who had headed the Prisons department, told TNIE that a similar programme had been launched to make prisoners literate. "Only their freedom is restricted, otherwise they are treated like ordinary people. They can also learn dance, music or any other subject, their minds will become healthy," he said.

Besides this, Kannada will also be incorporated into the march past, and commands will be given in the local language.

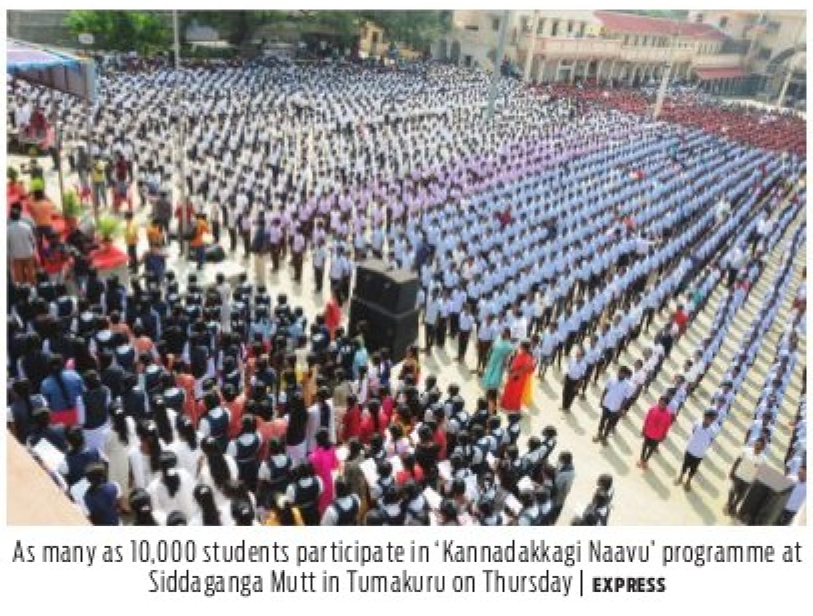
Around 20 lakh people tune in to the beat of Karnataka



As many as 10,000 students participate in 'Kannadakkagi Naavu' programme at Siddaganga Mutt in Tumakuru on Thursday | EXPRESS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THREE popular songs rang out across Karnataka and beyond on Thursday — Kuvempu's 'Baarisu Kannada Dimdimava', Nisar Ahmed's 'Jogada Siri' and Hamsalekha's 'Huttidare Kannada Naadalli Huttabeku' — sung by close to 20 lakh people. It was a record of sorts, with the music uniting Kannadigas in this precursor event to the Kannada Rajyotsava celebrations starting November 1.

The Department of Kannada and Culture had organised 'Kannadakkagi Naavu', and estimated that around five lakh people would participate. But the idea evoked an overwhelming response – from Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai to students, from Vidhana Soudha to traffic junctions, mountains to beaches, monuments to mutts, it was a common beat.

Kannada and Culture Minister Sunil Kumar -- who stopped his car to sing with traffic cops near the High Court -- told TNIE that people had responded spontaneously. "Our purpose is to get Kannada to reach the common people. The government alone cannot popularise it, we need people's support," he said.

The show of the day was on the steps of Vidhana Soudha, where thousands of people gathered, including Speaker Vishveshwara Hegde Kageri, Chief Secretary P Ravi Kumar, IAS and IPS officers, employees and even pro-Kannada organisations. There were similar concerts at Metro stations, BBMP head office and Ravindra Kalakshetra.

This found an echo across the state, from Gol Gumbaz to Suvarna Soudha to Udupi Krishna Mandira. There were 125 gatherings in Bengaluru region, Mysuru region (96), Belagavi region (106) and Kalaburagi with 60 gatherings.

A gang of miscreants targeted four people in separate incidents in the East Division and mugged them early on Thursday. Police suspect that the same gang is behind all four incidents and have launched a manhunt for the suspects.

Engineering student raped in Udupi district

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Udupi

THE Udupi Police have arrested a former engineering student of Manipal Institute of Technology (MIT) on the charges of raping an engineering student.

The arrested accused, identified as Aryan Chandavani (24), who hails from New Delhi, was friendly with the survivor, who is a native of Uttar Pradesh.

The duo had reportedly partied on October 16, and the accused allegedly raped her at a flat in Indrali that night. The survivor reported the matter at the women's police station in Udupi and also lodged a complaint. The police launched an investigation, and also arrested the accused. It is learnt that the survivor also faced trauma and suffered severe bleeding, for which she is currently under treatment at a hospital in Manipal.

Udupi Superintendent of Police Vishnuvardhana confirmed to The New Indian Express that the accused was arrested a day after the incident.

"He has been remanded to judicial custody by the court," he said.

Cops still have no clues of producer's family

ENS @Bengaluru

The Mahalakshmi Layout police on Thursday questioned four people, including a pub manager, over the escape of a Kannada film producer's family members following a crime, while also seeking to ascertain the alleged involvement of bouncers in the same. The crime in question took place on Saturday evening. Two domestic helps of a neighbour of the producer, were allegedly manhandled by the accused, following a skirmish over sweeping their employer's house.

A senior police officer said four bouncers, actor Snehit and his mother Rekha Jagadish, who are the prime accused in the FIR, were in contact with the pub manager and three other friends, prior to fleeing the city. Based on call records, the police summoned these contacts for questioning. So far, no clues have been found regarding the whereabouts of the accused.

Meanwhile, it is reported that on Wednesday, the complainant, Anuradha, approached police and requested that two names be removed from the FIR. But officers told her it was not possible since the FIR had already been submitted before the court. It is alleged that a few people, including politicians and filmstars, had pressured her to arrive at a compromise in the case.

It may be recalled that the North Division police have formed eight teams to trace the family members of producer Soundarya Jagadish.

Hyd cops look for 'ganja' in chats, citizens say no

Viral video shows police officer checking phones of young boys to find chats on weed, top cop says 'routine' work

'Routine to take phones as digital evidence'

Anjani Kumar, Commissioner of Police of Hyderabad, defended the police's ways. "In a few cases of sensational crimes where the accused can run away, the police can check all items available at the scene of the crime to get clues to the accomplices. At that time we don't know who are gang members or accomplices and who are innocent. The items like cellphones and laptops found at the crime scene are digital evidence," he said and pointed out that on suspicion, a police officer can frisk anyone

DONITA JOSE @ Hyderabad

NOW, chats on "ganja", "weed" can land you in a police station in Hyderabad. This, after Hyderabad City police along with excise officials, launched a coercive form of policing, where even the WhatsApp chats and messages in a person's phone are being checked to purportedly curb drug abuse.

On Thursday, a video went viral on social media showing teams of police checking young men for possession of drugs. In the video, it can be seen that nearly four to five bikes were stopped by the police and the riders were being made to open their dicky to show their belongings and even show their mobile phones for checking. This is essentially happening in areas of Mangalghat, Bhoiguda, Kaman, Dhoolpet, Jumerat Bazar. Since the video went viral, citizens expressed their utter shock and dismay over the police action.

SQ Masood, a social activist, stated that this was just in continuation of police's routine infringement on slum dweller's and marginalised individual's privacy and that it would not happen in a Banjara Hills or Hitec city where the affluent live. "Few days ago, during a cordon and search operation was held in the Falaknuma area, an officer was asking people for things like the trade licence of a tailoring shop, or of a printing press. They even asked why the Aadhar photo doesn't have a beard, but the person has. This is nothing but excessive policing," he added.

Meanwhile, Srinivas Kodali, Data and Privacy Researcher based out of Hyderabad called this the militarisation of police. "The Evidence Act Section 65 B clearly states that a panchnama has to be made when taking the phone for evidence. Here no such rule was followed and in the garb of calling it a crime scene search, they made the roads of the city a crime scene," he said.

₹6K for a vote: Angry residents demand bribe for exercising franchise

NAVEEN KUMAR TALLAM @Hyderrabad

THE Huzurabad Assembly constituency on Thursday turned into a theatre for protests, mostly by angry women who were not fortunate enough to receive ₹6,000 offered to each voter by a political party ahead of October 30 byelection in the segment.

The activists of a particular party had distributed money on Wednesday night to most of the voters but it so happened that some of them did not receive. At the crack of the dawn, those who have not received the money spilled on to the roads and staged protests, questioning how the party workers could ignore them while distributing the cash.

At many places, the women, who were furious at being "taken for a ride", entered into argument with the party workers, asking them whether they did not know that if they distribute money it should reach all. Leaving them out and distributing the manna to others was a gross injustice, they said.

They squatted at the residences of sarpanches, asking them how they could allow such an injustice being done to them as they were the "nodal authority" for distribution of cash in villages.

Take for instance the ruckus at Gangaram in Veenavanka mandal where women thronged the sarpanch's residence and demanded immediate payment. The police rushed in as tempers were running high and the situation becoming volatile. However, they did not give up their struggle even though the police approached them, saying menacingly that they were not afraid of them and that they would fight to the finish. Only after a lot of effort, the police managed to sooth the frayed nerves of the "wronged" women.

In Huzurabad nandal's Katrapalli and Rampur villages too women voters rushed to the sarpanches' houses and raised Cain. "Why is the sarpanch partial in favour of others? Our names are also there in the voters' list. The party's largesse should reach us also and why only a few?" one woman wanted to know.

At Pedda Papaiahpalli, several angry women staged a rasta roko. At Kamalapur mandal in Hanmakonda, women picketed the tahsildar's office while Buzunur of Ellandakunta mandal witnessed high pitched "screams for justice." At Kothaplli, Ippala Narsingapur, Kandugula and Katrapalli women were seen fighting for hours "for justice".

As protests did not abate, the leaders of the political party which distributed money survived anxious moments, not knowing how the Election Commission of India (ECI) would react and whether money distribution would finally turn counter-productive to the very cause for which the onerous task was undertaken.

Meanwhile, District Election Officer and Collector RV Karnan said that strike forces have been increased to move in and arrest those who indulge in influencing the voters with inducements.

Cinema Regulation Act to be in tune with the times

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE State Government is planning to introduce amendments to the Karnataka Cinemas (Regulation) Act in the next legislature session to bring it up to pace with changing technologies and to fight piracy, Home Minister Araga Jnanendra said on Thursday.

The Home Department had recently held a review meeting with various other departments including Revenue, Finance, Power and Fire Services to frame rules. Prior to that, a meeting was held with film makers and their suggestions were taken.

According to the Home Minister, the Act came into force in 1964 and a new set of rules were framed in 2014. "We are amending it again. Earlier, they would need large spaces and big crews for cinematography. But now, with technology, lesser space and people are needed. Currently, licence fee is renewed annually, but there are suggestions to make it once every five years. We are considering all these aspects,'' he said.

On piracy, the minister said film makers spend crores and lots of time to make one movie. But people involved in piracy are misusing and pushing movie makers into losses. "A special joint team of the Cyber Cell and the Central Crime Branch police has been formed to tackle this. Cinema is a big industry and we will protect film makers," he said.

RSS MEETING TO CONDEMN ATTACK ON HINDUS IN B'DESH

ENS @ Dharwad

THE three-day All-India Executive Committee of the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh (RSS) began at Rashtrotthana Vidya Kendra in Dharwad on Thursday.

More than 350 people from across the country, including RSS chief Mohan Bhagwat and general secretary Dattatreya Hosabale, volunteers, office-bearers, and heads of other organisations affiliated to the RSS, are taking part in the event.

According to RSS Sah Prachar Pramukh, Narendra Thakur, various issues, including the recent attacks on Hindus in Bangladesh, will be discussed at the meet. A resolution will also be passed on the recent violence on Hindus in Bangladesh. Also, future expansion plans of the RSS and other issues impacting the public will also be discussed.

"Personnel from the Karnataka State Reserve Police (KSRP) are also being involved as VIPs with Z plus security are attending the meeting. The security personnel will be working on shift basis," the police officer added.

Last year, the meet was held virtually owing to the Covid-19, making the Dharwad meeting the first one to be held offline since the outbreak of the pandemic.

VHP objects to fireworks with images of Gods

Mysuru: The Vishwa Hindu Parishad (VHP) on Thursday urged the public not to burst crackers which have images of Gods and Goddesses. District VHP president BS Prashanth said that if people stop buying such crackers, it would send a strong message and put an end to manufacturing such fireworks. "It is ironic that we offer puja to Goddess Lakshmi inside our houses and later burst firecrackers with her image on it," he said. The members urged people not to purchase firecrackers made in China.

HC grants bail to Bineesh Kodiyeri

BALA CHAUHAN & YATHIRAJU @ Bengaluru

EXACTLY a year after he was arrested by the Directorate of Enforcement (ED), Bengaluru zone, under Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA), 2002, Bineesh Kodiyeri was granted bail by the Karnataka High Court on Thursday. Bineesh is the son of Kerala CPI (M) leader Kodiyeri Balakrishnan.

Bineesh has been lodged in judicial custody at the Bengaluru Central Prison at Parappana Agrahara since his arrest on October 29, 2020 under Section 19 (1) of the PMLA, after his name surfaced during the interrogation of drug accused Mohammed Anoop. Mohammed was arrested in August last year by the Narcotics Control Bureau (NCB), Bengaluru zone, under the Narcotic Drugs & Psychotropic Substances (NDPS) Act, 1985.

According to sources, Bineesh may be released from prison on Friday. Justice M G Uma, at Dharwad Bench of Karnataka High Court, pronounced the judgement allowing the petition filed by Bineesh, but with conditions. Bineesh had moved the High Court in March after the special court dismissed his bail plea on February 22.

The ED had contended that Bineesh, who is accused number 4, was involved in financing the drug business of Mohammed Anoop, who is accused number 1, and others involved in the crime. It was argued that the investigation disclosed Bineesh's active connivance in the offence. Thus, he was bringing profits from the illegal business of drug dealings into the mainstream financial system to escape from the clutches of law enforcement agencies, including the ED.

The ED stated that Bineesh was actively connected with possession or use and projecting or claiming it as untainted property and was guilty of offence of money laundering. Thereby, he has committed the scheduled offence under the Prevention of Money Laundering Act, 2002 and generated the process of crime. Thus, he committed the offence of money laundering.

'No precipitative action against online gaming ops'

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE State Government on Thursday assured the Karnataka High Court that it will not take precipitative action against petitioners, who are online gaming operators, during pendency of petitions challenging the amendment brought to the Karnataka Police Act to prohibit and criminalise games of skill in the state.

Advocate General Prabhuling K Navadgi made a submission to that effect before Justice Krishna S Dixit, who was hearing a batch of petitions.

The All India Gaming Federation and others moved the HC, challenging the validity of the amendment to the Karnataka Police Act to prohibit and criminalise playing of games of skill, including online games, by risking money or otherwise. The senior counsels, representing the petitioners, contended that the inclusion of skill within the ambit of gaming is beyond the legislative competence of the state.

INDIAN EXPRESS IS NOT AN INDUSTRY. IT IS A MISSION.

HOW MUCH IS TOO MUCH IN INDIAN PREMIER LEAGUE?

The figures were insane. Who would have thought that two new IPL teams would fetch the Indian cricket board (BCCI) ₹12,000+ crore? The RPSG Group bought the Lucknow team for ₹7,090 crore and an international equity brand with a global sporting presence, CVC Capital Partners, secured Ahmedabad for ₹5,625 crore. Not even the BCCI was expecting so much. Whether the owners would eventually break even or make a profit soon, we don't know. But this points to the popularity of the IPL.

The crazy bids throw some light on brand IPL—it has grown from ₹3,000 crore in 2008 for eight teams to ₹12,000 crore for just two. With 10 teams, the number of matches will increase to 74. This translates into more slots for ads on TV. With the broadcasting and media rights up for bidding next year, it is expected to get bigger commercially. Previously, the rights had been held by Star for some ₹16,000 crore. Since broadcasters and the BCCI know that the IPL is a TV sport, the amount is expected to be big. Reports suggest the current valuation of the IPL as a brand is around ₹50,000 crore. And projections expect it to grow bigger. With no relegation and guaranteed annual compensation irrespective of on-field performance, teams feel secure about their place. This makes it an easy investment as the performance is not connected with the earnings. The bidding is also a testimony to the heft of T20 cricket in the IPL era (in 2008 there was a lot of scepticism regarding the format). At the same time, with Lucknow and Ahmedabad coming in, the IPL is expected to make a huge foray into the Hindi heartland.

There are some concerns as well. The new teams may not be able to fetch big players like M S Dhoni (Chennai Super Kings), Virat Kohli (Royal Challengers Bangalore) and Rohit Sharma (Mumbai Indians) as they are likely to be retained. So forming a lucrative team might be difficult. Like a previous owner said, it took them some six-seven years to break even. Hence, how the new teams are hoping to get a return on their investments need to be seen. Yes, teams' valuation would grow but in the end, will it justify the ₹7,090 crore?

TEST OF STRENGTH FOR YSRC IN AP BYPOLL

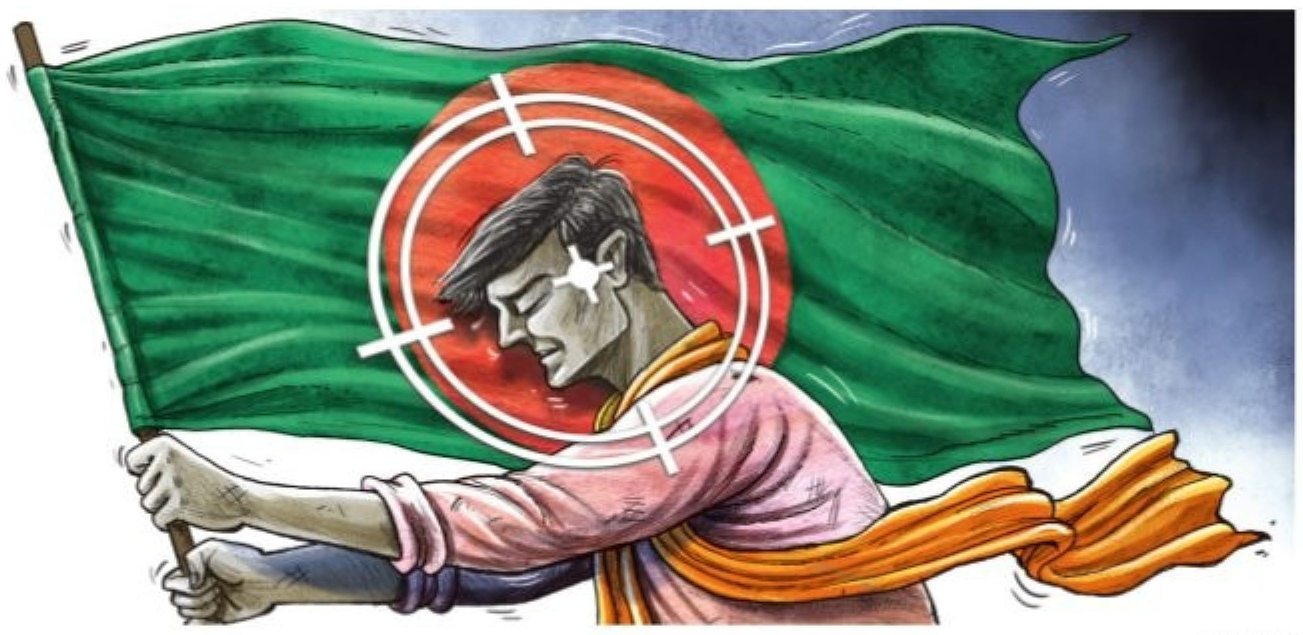
Even as the dust settles after the latest political storm over the TDP's invectives against Chief Minister Y S Jagan Mohan Reddy and the subsequent attack on the opposition party's head office in Andhra Pradesh, one can expect yet another bout shortly. All eyes are now on the Badvel SC reserved Assembly constituency, where a bypoll is to be held tomorrow. It is expected to be a walk in the park for the ruling YSRC as the TDP and film actor Pawan Kalyan's Jana Sena have preferred not to contest the election. For the first time, there will be a straight fight between the YSRC and the BJP, which is itching to replace the TDP as the main opposition in the state.

The bypoll has been necessitated due to the untimely demise of Dr Venkata Subbaiah of the YSRC, who won by a margin of 44,000 votes in 2019. YSRC supremo and Chief Minister Jagan has fielded the late leader's widow Dr Sudha and directed his foot soldiers to widen the winning margin to one lakh this time. It may be possible considering the absence of the main opposition, but here is the catch. The BJP, which fared worse than NOTA and garnered a mere 735 votes here in 2019, is banking on the overt support of its ally Jana Sena and covert support of local TDP cadre. The TDP had secured 32% vote share in the last Assembly polls. If the BJP manages to pocket the same or even 10%, it will indeed be a miracle. On the other hand, even a slight dip in the expected winning margin could be construed as a setback to the YSRC.

Seen from this perspective, it is a test of strength for Jagan, who his party workers believe has a Teflon coating notwithstanding the controversies that have engulfed his administration in the last two-and-a-half-years. Conscious of the pitfalls ahead, the YSRC has deployed senior hand Peddireddy Ramachandra Reddy and at least a dozen other leaders to make it a one-sided contest. Though sympathy factor and local issues come into play, the bypoll will indicate to some extent the public mood over the Jagan government's performance.

Blasphemy has been weaponised by fanatic Islamist organisations in Pakistan for quite some time. In Bangladesh, the Islamists have learnt fast to emulate this

THE MARCH OF BIGOTRY IN BANGLADESH



AMIT BANDRE

PINAK RANJAN CHAKRAVARTY

Former Ambassador and Secretary in MEA, and Visiting Fellow at the ORF, Delhi

The orgy of communal violence unleashed against Bangladeshi Hindus during the auspicious occasion of Durga Puja has evoked outrage and concern all around. The violence was triggered by social media, which carried a picture of the Quran lying at the feet of a Durga idol in Cumilla. This went viral and agent provocateurs exhorted Muslims to rise and avenge this blasphemous act. Police have arrested the person who placed the Quran and also the one who made the picture viral. Both are Muslims, which exposes the lie that Hindus have committed blasphemy.

The rioters chose Durga Puja, the most important religious festival among Bengalis on both sides of the border, to cause maximum hurt to the Hindu community. The police were caught napping initially, though it sprang into action belatedly to control the situation. Paramilitary forces have been deployed and large sections of the population have come out in support and solidarity with their fellow Hindu citizens. Hindus are soft targets and rarely fight back, making them easy prey for Muslim mobs. Angry Hindu leaders have blamed the police for apathy.

Pogroms against Hindus in East Pakistan occurred regularly under state patronage. Insecurity induced by communal violence forced Hindus to migrate to India. This was repeated before and during the 1971 war. Grabbing Hindu-owned properties and land was and remains a major factor in Bangladesh, where violence against the community has occurred intermittently during the 50 years of the nation's existence. Rarely has anyone been punished for these crimes. From around 29% of the population in 1947, the Hindu population has dwindled to less than 9% in Bangladesh today.

In 2001, Bangladesh witnessed large-scale communal violence before Durga Puja, when the Bangladesh Nationalist Party (BNP)–Jamaat-e-Islami (JeI) coalition won the election. The BNP-JeI cadres had unleashed similar violence against the Hindu community. Anti-Awami League (AL) parties view the Hindu community as a vote bank for the AL because of its commitment or at the least lip service to secular values. The Hindu vote is large enough to tip the balance in at least 50 seats. PM Sheikh Hasina, when in power, gives space to Hindus in her administration and tries to be inclusive. Hence, the BNP-JeI opposition and other anti-AL right-wing and Islamist parties, with their communal outlook, believe that reduction in the Hindu population gives them an electoral advantage.

Around 90% of Bangladeshis are Muslims and they are largely moderate and tolerant. Bangladesh's 1972 Constitution was a secular one, till secularism was expunged by the military dictator Gen Ziaur Rahman. The military dictator who succeeded him, Gen Muhammad Ershad, introduced Islam as the state religion in the Constitution. For them, Islamic nationalism was a fundamental aspect of national identity. Both joined hands with Islamist parties to further their political ambitions. PM Hasina has reintroduced secularism back into the Constitution but Islam as the state religion remains.

Muslim bigots have thrown down the gauntlet and challenged PM Hasina. She will surely pick up the gauntlet, given her steely determination. While reassuring the Hindu community in her message on the occasion of Durga Puja, she has warned that she will hunt down the perpetrators. Hindu leaders in Bangladesh have consistently alleged that some AL leaders are involved in uprooting Hindus and grabbing their properties. During the current violence, the same allegations have surfaced again. The agent provocateur in the Rangpur violence turned out to be from the youth wing of AL. They are taking advantage of the AL to insulate themselves against their anti-Hindu activities. The thin veneer of secularism in Bangladesh is invariably trumped by these factors.

Who are the conspirators and what is the significance of the timing? Suspicion for planning the violence has focussed on the JeI. Blasphemy has been weaponised by fanatic Islamist organisations in Pakistan for quite some time. In Bangladesh, the Islamists have learnt fast to emulate their Pakistani counterparts. They have demanded a blasphemy law, apart from transforming Bangladesh into an Islamic state ruled as per the Sharia. JeI is notorious for collaborating with the Pakistani army in committing genocide in 1971 and is widely regarded as Pakistan's proxy. JeI has been thirsting for revenge ever since the war crimes tribunals, set up by PM Hasina, convicted its leaders and executed them for war crimes in 1971. The UK-based IT cell of the JeI, Basherkella (bamboo fortress), has been spewing anti-Hindu and anti-India propaganda for some time, giving traction to the view that the violence was planned in advance.

To balance the crackdown on JeI and decisive action on ISIS-inspired terrorist groups, PM Hasina has periodically engaged with Islamist groups, the latest being the Hefazat. PM Hasina conceded several of their demands like the removal of some statues from public display, expunging content from school textbooks written by Hindus and even recognising degrees granted by Hefazet-controlled madrassahs. Emboldened by such gestures, Hefazat cadres started breaking statues of Sheikh Mujibur Rahman, PM Hasina's father. This led to arrests and a crackdown on Hefazat leaders. The Islami Andolan has long campaigned for an Islamic state that follows Sharia. It openly called PM Hasina a "slave of India" and demanded that for every Bangladeshi killed on the border, at least 1,000 Indians should be killed.

To balance the crackdown on JeI and decisive action on ISIS-inspired terrorist groups, PM Hasina has periodically engaged with Islamist groups, the latest being the Hefazat. She conceded several of their demands like the removal of some statues from public display, expunging content from school textbooks written by Hindus and even recognising degrees granted by Hefazet-controlled madrassahs

India's ties with Bangladesh, under the stewardship of PM Hasina, has delivered positive outcomes across a wide range of sectors. One key objective of the Islamists is to undermine bilateral ties with India and undermine the unstinted support that all Indian governments have extended to PM Hasina. This objective fits in with Pakistan's anti-Indian goals. Mindful of the growing strategic nature of bilateral ties, India has reacted cautiously. Indian and Bangladeshi Hindu leaders are indignant at India's muted reaction. Across the Cumilla border in Tripura, Muslims and mosques have been attacked and there is apprehension that such acts may proliferate in Assam. Tripura's population is largely made up of refugees from Cumilla and they retain cross-border family ties.

The road to competitive communalism is a cul-de-sac. PM Hasina has obliquely hinted that anti-Muslim incidents in India encourage Islamists to exact revenge on Hindus in Bangladesh. The bigots, however, do not need excuses to further their jihadi agenda of expelling "kafirs" to create their promised Islamic utopia and embarrass PM Hasina's government. Meanwhile, everyone hopes that the culprits will be punished. India must prepare for more Hindu refugees to cross over and seek rehabilitation in the nation. This will render the case for the Citizenship Amendment Act, currently in limbo, more relevant and urgent.

THE ECONOMICS BEHIND ADOPTING BLOCKCHAIN

AMAR PATNAIK

BJD Rajya Sabha MP, ex-CAG bureaucrat with a PhD in management and now an advocate

As countries and organisations contend with the effects of the Covid-19 pandemic, the space for disruptive technologies has emerged. The concept of blockchain has attracted attention over the past few years primarily through the discourse around cryptocurrency. In layman's terms, blockchain refers to a kind of database that stores data in blocks of information, which are linked together to form a permanent chain. Even simpler, it is like a distributed ledger of entries/data. Considering its nature as a decentralised and distributed technology with peer-to-peer protocol, it inherently enhances traceability and transparency in real time and is almost fraud-proof.

A PwC report estimates that blockchain will add $1.76 trillion to global GDP over the next decade. While cryptocurrency is the primary use case associated with blockchain, it has a wide range of other applications across a variety of industries, from finance and banking to healthcare and education. To my mind, its best possible use cases are in the government sector with its complex problem statements in various domains like land records management, health, education, pensions, etc. An illustrative example of the same can be found in Georgia where the government was able to enhance efficiency in its land titling process by replacing the back-end software of the existing system with blockchain.

The economic reasoning for adopting blockchain at a global scale is plentiful. To demonstrate this, we can look at the tracking and tracing of products and services for companies' supply chains. The aforementioned PwC report values the contribution of blockchain to this sector as around $962 billion over the next decade, since it will help cater to the needs of companies ranging from financial services to mining to textile.

If we take the insurance sector as a use case, we can see how blockchain mitigates various issues around information asymmetries. One fundamental concern in the insurance sector is the principal-agent problem, which stems from conflicting incentives amidst information asymmetry between the principal (insurer company) and the agent (of the company). Some adverse outcomes of this include unprofessional conduct, agents forging documents to meet assigned targets as well as a misrepresentation of the compliances, often leading to misselling of insurance products. These problems occur primarily due to the absence of an integrated mechanism to track and prevent fraudulent conduct of the agent. In such a scenario, blockchain has the ability to bridge the gaps and enhance the customer experience by virtue of providing a distributive, immutable and transparent rating system that allows agents to be rated according to their performance by companies as well as clients. When an insurer wants to check the rating of a particular agent, they will provide their hash-based address and a smart contract will be executed, fetching the required rating. This mechanism incentivises agents to conform with company procedure and align with the interests of the principal. The principal-agent problem arises in several other sectors as well, particularly in government, in areas like land governance, registrations, payment of property taxes, administration of food subsidies or payment of minimum support prices to farmers.

India must harness blockchain through progressive regulation and ensure this tool plays an important role in transforming the way the public sector works and delivers services to citizens

Another economic issue that crops up often is that of adverse selection. In the insurance sector, this refers to the problem of the asymmetrical flow of information between the insurer and the insured (end client). For example, in the case of health insurance, blockchain can be used to introduce Electronic Health Records (EHRs) that store all the patients' information in one system in a distributed fashion. Patients will be able to share this information with insurers via a system of consent and these EHRs will allow the insurance company to take a more informed decision since they will have access to the insurer's track record. Similar application lies in a large number of beneficiary-oriented schemes of the government where there are regular accusations of both type-I (ineligible beneficiaries included) and type-II errors (eligible beneficiaries excluded).

Similarly, blockchain is also effective in mitigating the problem of moral hazard, particularly in the insurance sector. Moral hazard in such a scenario refers to a case where an insured individual deliberately acts against the interests of the insurance company after a coverage is attained. For example, in the case of a car insurance use case, all the transactions related to the car in terms of its wear and tear can be noted in a blockchain-based electronic ledger. This ledger cannot be manipulated and is accessible to the insurance company. This will force the insured person to proactively eschew negligence on his part.

Looking into the manner in which blockchain can be utilised to address inherent challenges in the insurance sector, the adoption of this technology has the potential to unlock similar benefits not just in the private sector but in the government itself. Its decentralised nature helps deal with problems relating to conflicts of interest, as well as power and information asymmetries. It makes eminent economic rationale to adopt blockchain to further boost the digital revolution by strengthening transparency, efficiency, decentralisation and immutability in the ecosystem. India must harness this tool through progressive regulation and ensure blockchain plays an important role in transforming the way the public sector works and delivers services to citizens. The government itself has the best problem statements for its adoption but is unfortunately bogged down by hubris and path dependence.

SC decision significant

The SC move to constitute an independent panel on the Pegasus surveillance issue assumes significance as no clear answer was given by the Centre. Based on the prohibitive cost of the software and the names of those targeted, the needle of suspicion clearly seems to point at the ruling BJP.

R Sivakumar, Chennai

Centre failed to come clean

The SC had given the Centre an opportunity to come clean but that did not happen. So it was left with no option but to constitute a probe panel. What is significant here is the SC's observation that infringement of an individual's privacy by using spyware cannot be justified as the government is not entitled to a free pass citing security as the premise for invasive action.

Edu crisis in Kerala

Your editorial on the crisis in the education sector in Kerala lays bare the underlying issues (Oct 28). One of the reasons for the liberal valuation was the pandemic that thrust online classes upon hapless students. Doubtful whether they could cope up, the government opted for the easy way out and made everybody a winner, the consequences of which nobody cared to analyse earlier.

Antony's role in protests

This is with reference to 'Antony had no role in Orana Samaram' (Oct 26). I disagree with Prof. G Balachandran's remarks. At that time, I was studying in Class 5 in Arookutty Government UP School, Cherthala. Orana Samaram was organised by the Kerala Students Union demanding the withdrawal of the EMS government's order increasing the boat travel rate from 6 paise to 10 paise. KSU was successful and the government was forced to give in. On that day, KSU volunteers entered our school compound, shouted slogans against the government and requested students to participate in the strike by boycotting classes. As the situation got out of control, the headmaster, to avoid further complications, announced the closure of the school for the day. While A K Antony was not present in our school, later we heard that he and other KSU volunteers protested in Mattathilbagam LPS and were beaten up brutally by the police. Being born and brought up in Arookutty, I used to see Antony in Mathanam Junction, Kombanamuri, Vavalumkadu, etc., participating in various public protests, including a march held in 1960 for the reconstruction of the Poochhakkal bridge. His continued participation in all issues affecting the common man enabled him to defeat Shri N P Thandar, the veteran Marxist leader, in the 1970 Assembly election from Cherthala, and the rest is history.

Channi meets Rahul, discusses Capt impact on polls

Two leaders deliberated on possibility of Amarinder's tie-up with BJP and exit of his loyalists from party affecting its electoral prospects

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

WITH the Congress party's troubles in Punjab far from over, Chief Minister Charanjit Singh Channi met Rahul Gandhi on Thursday to discuss the upcoming assembly poll strategy and issues repeatedly flagged by state chief Navjot Singh Sidhu in the backdrop of former chief minister Captain Amarinder Singh announcing a new party.

The meeting comes amid speculations on Amarinder's possible alliance with the BJP, which were further fuelled by Singh's scheduled meeting with Union Home Minister Amit Shah on Thursday. While announcing his party, Amarinder had said his meeting with Shah was to find a solution to the ongoing farmer agitation but had added that he was open to alliance with the BJP. The meeting, however, was postponed as Shah left for Gujarat for a party function to mark the National Integration Day on October 31.

According to sources, Rahul and Channi discussed the possible impact of Amarinder's party on the Congress's prospects in the assembly elections next year, especially with a section of state leaders still being disgruntled over various issues. They also talked about the MLAs who have been loyalists of the former CM and how to prevent them from switching to his new political outfit.

Rahul Gandhi on Tuesday had met some of these MLAs along with Punjab's Deputy CM Sukhjinder Singh Randhawa.

"Singh's decision to contest all 117 seats could cut votes but there are only 10-12 seats where he can influence voters and damage the Congress's chances. We will have to wait and watch how things turn out in the coming weeks," said a senior Congress leader.

The continuing rift between Channi and Sidhu has also added to the party's headache. During the CM's meeting with Rahul, discussion was also held on Sidhu questioning the government's appointments.

BJP to contest all seats, ready for tie-up

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

THE BJP will contest all 117 seats in Punjab in assembly elections for which as the party has given a new slogan – 'Nawan Punjab BJP De Naal' (A new Punjab with BJP). The party is open to seat sharing if Amarinder Singh floats his new outfit.

The party has repeated its stand that it is ready to have a dialogue with the protesting farmers as it claims that they have been "misguided for vested political interests".

The BJP's Punjab in-charge and Union minister Gajendra Singh Shekhawat on Thursday sought to clear his stand on the question of alliance with Amarinder. "As of now Amarinder has said he is ready for seat sharing, so let him respond. My party's parliamentary board will decide on it," Shekhawat said. "We will welcome all those who accept our ideology," he said, claiming the party will form the next government in the state.

He said the Congress state unit was a divided house and that in the last six months,over 5,000 people from other parties have joined the BJP in Punjab. Shekhawat said the BJP will give due political recognition to all segments in the state. He accused the other parties of lacking any vision for the prosperity of the state. "The voters will reject them."

On the farmers' agitation, he said the government put the new agricultural laws on hold for 18 months. "Even now we are ready for talks as our intentions to address the issue can never be doubted. Our doors are always open," he said.

On expanding the BSF jurisdiction, Shekhawat said national security was beyond compromise. The incidents of drug smuggling and drones carrying weapons had increased manifold. Amarinder had raised the issue a number of times with Home Minister Amit Shah.

"The special assembly session called on November 8 by CM Charanjit Singh Channi on the BSF jurisdiction is a ploy to divert the attention of the public from key issues," he said.

Govt mulls formation of coastal police for islands

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

THE government may consider formation of separate coastal police cadre in all states for monitoring islands in the country with aid of technology, officials said on Thursday after Union home minister Amit Shah held a meeting of Consultative Committee of the ministry to review coastal security.

Following the meeting, Shah put out a tweet stating that the Modi government is striving to make India's coastal security impenetrable using technology and by coordinating with all the states and the other stakeholders.

It was the lack of surveillance along the coastline that had allowed 10 terrorists to sail to Mumbai from Pakistan and carry out the worst ever terrorist attack in India on November 26, 2008 that left 166 people dead.

Since then, the Centre has taken several measures to establish a robust multi-layered surveillance system along the country's 7,517-km-long coastline that touches 13 states and Union territories.

The country also has around 1,197 islands. "For the first time, all islands of the country have been surveyed and many important decisions are being taken on the basis of reports received in this regard. Suggestions received for formation of separate Coastal Police Cadre in all states and monitoring of islands and coastal areas with the help of technology," the ministry said.

It added that many ministries and agencies have a role in coastal security and they would be further strengthened soon, after a meeting of all stakeholders under the chairmanship of PM Modi.

Adoption through DMs: Centre seeks feedback

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

THREE months after the Rajya Sabha passed a bill proposing amendments in the Juvenile Justice Act to allow district magistrates instead of civil or family courts to approve adoptions, the Centre has sought public feedback on the bill.

A key provision in the bill is also to grant registration to a shelter home after the DM's recommendation.

In a public notice, the Union women and child development ministry has now said that the stakeholders can send their suggestions for the amendments to Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection of Children) model rules, 2016 by November 11.

The suggested clauses include authorising DMs and ADMs to issue adoption orders under Section 61 of the JJ Act, in order to ensure speedy disposal of cases and enhance accountability, while proposing to empower them to implement the Act for the benefit of children in distressed conditions.

As per the amended provisions of the Act, any child care institution will be registered after considering the recommendation of the DM who will independently evaluate the functioning of district child protection units, child welfare committees, juvenile justice boards, specialised juvenile police units and shelter homes.

Sources in the WCD ministry said that with high pendency high in civil and family courts, it is not easy to get a date for hearing which often leads to adoption pleas being pushed to the backburner.

The public notice came days after a group of 250 prospective adoptive parents and adoptive parents wrote to WCD minister Smriti Irani, seeking reforms in the adoption norms so that the process becomes faster and transparent. The parents who reached out to the ministry through an advocacy group, Adoption Action Group, included resident Indians and NRIs.

Even the Sinho panel had suggested that extending the criteria to identify 'creamy layer' among OBCs could serve as a benchmark to decide the EWS cap, the affidavit said.

Raj Cong finalises political appointments

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

AHEAD of the much-anticipated cabinet reshuffle in Rajasthan post-Diwali, Congress state in-charge Ajay Maken met Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot at his residence in Jaipur on Wednesday night.

State Congress chief Govind Singh Dotasra was also present at the dinner meeting where the long-pending cabinet expansion and political appointments were reportedly discussed. According to sources, the names to be accommodated in corporations, boards and commissions were finalised at the two-hour-long meeting.

After the meeting, Maken confirmed that the cabinet reshuffle and the political appointments will be made 'soon'. Although the entire exercise on political appointments had already been done in a recent meeting with Congress general secretary Priyanka Gandhi Vadra in Delhi, instructions were given to finalise the list. It is learnt that during Gehlot's recent meeting with Priyanka, it was decided that MLAs and leaders who contested the assembly elections should not be adjusted in political appointments. Instead, the common workers and leaders who could not get tickets should be appointed to these posts.

Party insiders said leaders from the Sachin Pilot camp will be given due importance in the political appointments. In addition, caste and regional balance will also be maintained.

A few days ago, Gehlot has also met Governor Kalraj Mishra regarding appointments to constitutional posts. Posts in over half-a-dozen constitutional commissions and for Vice-Chancellors in many universities have been lying vacant for a long time.

'BJP IS HERE TO STAY FOR MANY DECADES'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

POLL strategist Prashant Kishor, who is currently lobbying for the Trinamool Congress for the Goa Assembly polls, took a dig at Rahul Gandhi on Thursday saying the problem with the Congress leader is that he does not realise the BJP is here to stay in India politics.

In a video, Kishor is heard saying at a private event in the coastal state, "The BJP is going to be the centre of Indian polity...whether they win or lose, like it was for the first 40 years for Congress, BJP is going nowhere…Once you secure 30 per cent plus votes at the India-level, you are not going away in a hurry."

Referring to Rahul, Kishore, "That is where the problem lies with Rahul Gandhi. Probably, he thinks it's just a matter of time that people will throw him (PM Modi) away... Maybe, they will throw away Modi, but BJP is not going anywhere. They are going to be here, you have to fight it out for the next many decades."

Reacting to the comments, the BJP said the entire country agrees with that. While the TMC said Kishor is not a member of the party and the comments were his own, the Congress accused the TMC of entering the poll fray in Goa to "divide secular votes and give mileage to BJP".

ASEAN Summit: Modi harps on cooperation in Indo-Pacific

PTI

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

VIRTUALLY participating in the ASEAN-India Summit on Thursday, Prime Minister Narendra Modi stressed on the centrality and priority New Delhi accorded to the bloc.

Modi, during his address, announced that the year 2022 would be celebrated as ASEAN-India Friendship Year to commemorate 30 years of strong ties between the two sides. He said India's Indo-Pacific Oceans Initiative and ASEAN's Outlook for the Indo-Pacific are the framework for their shared vision and mutual cooperation in the Indo-Pacific region. The two sides also released a joint statement on the Indo-Pacific.

"We all had to deal with many challenges due to the Covid-19 pandemic. But this challenging time was also a test for India-ASEAN friendship. In the Covid era, our mutual cooperation, mutual sympathy, will continue to strengthen our relationship in future, and will be the basis of goodwill among our people," Modi said.

Asserting that the special role of ASEAN is embedded in India's Act East Policy and Security and Growth for All in the Region (SAGAR), the PM said history is witness that India and ASEAN have had vibrant relations for thousands of years. "Shades of that are visible in our shared values, traditions, languages, texts, architecture, culture, food and, therefore, the unity and centrality of ASEAN have always been an important priority for India," he added.

Modi said India is committed to further deepen ties with the grouping under the next president Cambodia and country coordinator Singapore.

More univs can offer open learning

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

INDIA'S higher education regulator has permitted seven more universities to offer online degree programmes after releasing a list of nearly 50 such institutions over the last two months. The seven institutions are from Andhra Pradesh, Delhi, Karnataka, Kerala, Maharashtra, Tamil Nadu and Uttar Pradesh.

The list has been prepared after meetings of the standing appellate committee of the University Grants Commission, conducted in June and July. The UGC had earlier allowed 50 institutions to offer online degree programmes.

The commission has said that the institutions can offer the online programmes as long as they comply with the NAAC or NIRF ranking requirements as per regulations, and if they fail to comply, they can discontinue the programmes and inform the UGC accordingly.

Under the UGC (Open and Distance Learning) Regulations, 2017 that were introduced with an aim to improve the quality of open and distance learning, only universities can offer these courses and the main quality eligibility benchmark is NAAC score of 3.26 on a 4-point scale.

UThe programmes allowed include degree programmes for which UGC approval is needed. However, certificate, diploma programmes can also be conducted with approval of statutory authorities and relevant regulatory authority.

MP govt to allot free plots for big-size families in rural areas

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

THERE'S good news for big-size joint families which are forced to live in small houses in Madhya Pradesh. The MP government has decided to ensure that not more than one family has to live in one house. Chief Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan on Thursday reiterated his resolve that free residential plots will be provided by the government, in cases where more than one family (comprising a couple and their children) is living in a single house, if they do not have any plot of land to live in.

Calling the decision "historic", the CM said, "This will also open the way for the construction of more houses under the Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana and the benefits of other schemes will also be available."

"This is a historic decision in favour of the poor. Under the Mukhyamantri Awasiya Bhuadhikar Yojna, the state government has issued guidelines for allotment of plots on abaadi (populated) land in rural areas," he said.

This scheme has been implemented with the objective of ensuring that every family has the right to a dignified life with minimum basic necessities. On getting the residential plot, it will be helped in getting loans from government schemes and banks.

The Mukhyamantri Awasiya Bhu-adhikar Yojna has been started by the state government to provide residential plots to the eligible families in each gram panchayat.

Under the scheme, respective district collectors have been empowered with respect to the availability of abaadi land'.

The maximum area of the plot for allotment will be 60 square metre. Only those applicant families will be eligible to apply who are residents of the respective village. For getting a residential plot, application has to be submitted online through the SAARA portal.

The village-wise list of eligible families under the scheme will be published for the purpose of inviting objections and suggestions from villagers.

'Mob targeted a dozen mosques in Tripura'

Jamiat says Hindus helped in repairing a few places; minister claims one isolated incident but no communal attack

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @Guwahati

A sit-in by the Congress denouncing the communal attacks in Tripura | EXPRESS

AT least a dozen mosques were targeted in Tripura during the bout of violence which started about a week ago, the Tripura State Jamiat Ulama (Hind) alleged on Thursday.

The Tripura State Jamiat Ulama said while one mosque was set on fire, 11-12 others were vandalised and damaged.

Some of the attacks were carried out at night, said Mufti Tayebur Rahman, who is the president of Tripura State Jamiat Ulama. Local Hindus helped to repair one-two damaged mosques, he added.

Minority Affairs Minister Ratanlal Nath played down the violence, claiming that there was just one incident and added that it was "not an attack". "It was an isolated incident which occurred at a particular place. Section 144 of the CrPC has been already clamped (in Panisagar and Dharmanagar sub-divisions of North Tripura district). Other steps were also taken immediately," Nath told this newspaper.

Political and administrative steps were taken side by side, he said, adding that a team had visited the violence-hit area to prevent any possible escalation of tension. "It was not like the incidents taking place in Bangladesh, and not an attack. Only one person was involved during a procession. A shop was put on fire but it was doused soon after by firefighters," the minister said, referring to the incident in Panisagar. Violence was also reported from Dharmanagar in the state.

BJP's Panisagar MLA Binay Bhushan Das said three shops were torched and another three-four houses damaged. He said a mosque was also "partially vandalised". Das did not rule out involvement of the opposition parties, saying they were looking for opportunities to tarnish the BJP's image.

The police said the situation was under control and meetings were being organised among communities for maintaining harmony. Adequate deployments were also made, it said.

UP: KASHMIRI TRIO FACES SEDITION FOR SUPPORTING PAK

EXPRESS NEW SERVICE @Lucknow

THE three Kashmir engineering students, who were arrested in Uttar Pradesh's Agra for celebrating Pakistan's win over India at the T20 World Cup, will now face sedition charge.

The decision came after Uttar Pradesh CM Yogi Adityanath's order to the police to slap sedition charges against all those celebrating Pakistan's win.

The three students of Raja Balwant Singh Engineering Technical Campus were booked on Tuesday evening and arrested a day later following the complaint of a BJP youth wing leader. The three students were booked under Sections 505(1)B, 153A IPC and Section 66(F) of IT Act for raising pro-Pakistan and anti-India slogans after Pakistan's win at the ongoing T20 World Cup and making pro-Pakistan posts on the social media.

Just a day before they were booked by the police, the three Kashmiri students were suspended by the college administration on Monday for the act.

Meanwhile, the Jammu and Kashmir Students Association, has written to the UP CM to revoke the FIR registered against the trio. "The government should give students a chance to restore their faith in the ethical standing and the fair Constitution of India...," it wrote.

'Wankhede not to be held without notice'

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Mumbai

IN a relief to Sameer Wankhede, the Mumbai Police assured the Bombay High Court on Thursday that it would not arrest the NCB zonal director without giving him three days' notice after he moved the court seeking protection.

Wankhede had filed a petition seeking an urgent hearing, claiming he feared arrest over allegations of extortion against him in the case related to alleged drug bust on a cruise ship involving actor Shah Rukh Khan's son Aryan.

Prabhakar Sail, the bodyguard of NCB witness KP Gosavi, in his affidavit, alleged that Wankhede and his associates had demanded ₹25 crore from Khan to release his son. He and another witness Shekhar Kamble had also claimed that Wankhede took their signature on blank pages and made them witnesses.

The day was marked with hectic action as Wankhede's wife Kranti Redkar approached Maharashtra CM Uddhav Thackeray for succour while NCP minister Nawab Malik continued his attack on the NCB zonal director.

Kranti Redkar wrote to Uddhav contending that the Shiv Sena should protect them from personal attacks as she and her family were Marathis. In her letter, she reminded Uddhav how Sena patriarch Balasaheb Thackeray protected Marathi manoos and asserted that she expected the same from him.

On his part, Malik tweeted wondering why Wankhede did not trust the Mumbai Police. "When he was arresting and harassing people on false charges and framing them, he was enjoying the limelight. Now, he is running pillar to post to save himself. We will expose him," he tweeted, saying 'Picture abhi baki hai dost.'

Meanwhile, the father of Wankhede's first wife claimed that he always knew the Wankhedes as followers of Islam.

Tribal festival off to grand start

Jharkhand and Chhattisgarh CMs Hemant Soren and Bhupesh Baghel at the event

A march-past by tribal artists from seven countries as well as those from 27 Indian states and six Union Territories marked the opening of the three-day National Tribal Dance Festival in Raipur on Thursday.

Jharkhand CM Hemant Soren inaugurated the event which was presided over by his Chhattisgarh counterpart Bhupesh Baghel. In a short message, Congress leader Rahul Gandhi extended his best wishes to the cultural event.

Chhattisgarh is hosting the festival where Indian and international tribal artists and folk dance troupe will take part in unique cultural shows, rituals and traditions. Over 1,500 members representing the diverse tribal ethnic communities are taking part in the event.

On the occasion, Soren praised Chhattisgarh for its 'innovative initiative on preserving, safeguarding and promoting the culture of the tribals'. "This is not just the dance festival but also recognising the tribals with high regard."

With a 32 per cent tribal population, Chhattisgarh has one of the largest presences of tribals in the country. "Unity in diversity is our identity and strength. It's the second edition of the Tribal Dance Festival. We wish to create Chhattisgarh as a world forum for the tribals," Baghel asserted.

The daily tribal dance show will begin from morning 9 and will continue till late evening. The event will exhibit the varieties of costumes, crafts and jewellery designs, food cuisine and much more related to lives and traditions of the tribal communities.

On the first day the folk artists from Uganda, Nigeria and Palestine along with the tribal groups from the north-east enthralled the spectators with their charming performance.

Bahuguna calls bluff on Rawat's claims

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Dehradun

FORMER Uttarakhand Chief Minister Vijay Bahuguna, who led the rebellion in 2016 when nine Congress MLAs joined the BJP, challenged his former colleague Harish Rawat to reveal the constituency from where he planned to contest in the state.

"Rawat*ji* must reveal from which Assembly constituency seat or seats he is planning to contest next year. He is overconfident despite losing from both the seats he contested from in 2017," he said.

Bahuguna also asserted that there is no disgruntle among the BJP MLAs. The former Congress leader was the chief minister of Uttarakhand from March 2012 till January 2014. He had resigned after widespread allegations following the 2013 deluge which rocked the Kedarnath Valley.

Meanwhile, Rawat claimed that many in the ruling BJP including the turncoats were in contact with the Congress leaders to leave the ruling party.

"Elections are the ultimate test (of political leaders). We will vet the person based on how they can help our organisation in the elections," the former Uttarakhand chief minister said.

Dinhata bypoll: BJP faces acid test at its stronghold in north Bengal

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kolkata

AS the BJP suffered a jolt in its north Bengal stronghold after two of its MLAs joined the ruling Trinamool Congress, the Dinhata Assembly bypoll will be an acid test for the saffron camp.

In 2019 Lok Sabha elections, BJP MP from Cooch Behar Nisith Pramanik, who contested in the recent Assembly elections, won merely by 57 votes in Dinhata. Understandably, the TMC is waiting to breach the opposition's citadel.

''Our party had a slender victory in Dinhata and now if we fail to retain the seat in Cooch Behar, it will deliver a negative message to the electorates across the state, which will definitely have a negative impact on all municipal and panchayat elections in the state. This why the Dinhata bypoll is an acid test,'' said a BJP leader.

Udayan Guha of the TMC will take on BJP's Ashok Mondol in the October 30 bypoll. The seat fell vacant after Pramanick was elevated as a union minister in Delhi. Incidentally, Guha is the son of Forward Bloc leader Kamal Guha, who had strong influence among the electorate of Cooch Behar.

The TMC candidate is no pushover as he was elected as a Forward Bloc candidate from the constituency in the 2011 bengal Assembly elections and re-elected as a Trinamool MLA in 2016.

The BJP, however, is counting on Trinamool's intra-party feud for retaining the seat. "Cooch Behar sprung a surprise as the electorate elected Pramanik as MP and seven of our nine MLAs. People of Dinhata will not disappoint us,'' said a BJP leader.

But, the TMC claims to have revived its organisation in the north Bengal district.

"People of Dinhata elected BJP's Pramanik who shunned them by deciding not to continue as the MLA of the constituency. They will not vote for the saffron party this time," asserted a TMC leader.

WHY DINHATA IS IMPORTANT

Dinhata is a battle of prestige for the BJP because it falls in North Bengal, which is considered a stronghold area of the saffron party. In the 2019 general elections, the BJP won here 18 Lok Sabha constituencies in the eastern state. Moreover, Junior home minister Nisith Pramanik comes from this part of West Bengal.

Tough battle awaits Cong in Northeast

GUWAHATI: The October 30 bypolls to nine seats in the Northeast will be a litmus test for the Congress, which suffered in the Assembly elections across the region.

Five constituencies are in Assam, while three in Meghalaya and one in Mizoram. The Congress is the only party to have fielded candidates in all seats. Altogether 31 candidates are contesting the five seats in Assam. Meghalaya and Mizoram have 13 and four candidates.

In Assam, sitting MLAs Rupjyoti Kurmi (Mariani) and Sushanta Borgohain (Thowra) dealt a body blow to the Congress by defecting to the BJP within months after winning the polls. Later, Bhabanipur MLA Phanidhar Talukdar too quit AIUDF to join saffron.

In Meghalaya, the Congress hopes to retain Mawryngkneng and Rajabala. The third seat going to polls is Mawphlang. Meghalaya is the only Northeast state where the Congress is relatively placed better. The party will try to regain Tuirial in Mizoram. It had lost the seat to Zoram People's Movement in 2018. ENS

English medium in pre-primary classes

Rajasthan will now have pre-primary classes in English medium in government-run Mahatma Gandhi schools. Children of 3 years and above will be admitted to Nursery, KG I and KG II classes. Education Minister Govind Singh Dotasara said that admission of students will begin from this session, fulfilling Rajasthan Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot's promise made in this year's budget. The Mahatma Gandhi schools aim to improve educational standards in Rajasthan and there is a huge demand for admission in them.

Message in BJP chief's birthday bash

Leaders in Rajasthan are now showcasing their influence by gathering huge crowd on their birthday. The latest example came this week when BJP state president Satish Poonia celebrated his birthday in which about 50,000 people reached his home. Huge hoardings and cut-outs of Poonia all over Jaipur triggered much debate in political circles. Earlier, Congress state chief President Govind Singh Dotasara had taken the same path. The trend was started by Congress leader Sachin Pilot. Political observers say that the trend is flourishing as many leaders in both the major parties are now aspirants for the Chief Minister's post. With elections in the state just two years away, they contend, this trend is only likely to get stronger.

Abandoned girl adopted by British couple

It was an emotional moment for the couple when they got the custody of Supriya. The husband revealed that his birthday is due on the next day and on this occasion God has given him the priceless gift of daughter. Kiran Panwar, superintendent of the infant home, said that the baby girl initially had Down Syndrome but now she was completely healthy.

China to build base close to Afghan border for Tajikistan

ALMATY

CHINA will build a base for police in Tajikistan near the Afghan border, a Tajik official said on Thursday, amid concerns from both countries about the Taliban's ability to keep a lid on extremist groups.

The base points to deepening security cooperation between impoverished Tajikistan and China, which is reported to maintain another base in the southeast of the ex-Soviet country.

A parliamentary spokesman said Tajikistan's lower house had approved the plan to build the base in the Ishkashim district of the mountainous Gorno-Badakhshan province.

"All construction is funded by the Chinese side. After construction, the base will be transferred to the Tajik (police)," the spokesman, who did not provide his name, told AFP by telephone.

He said China was providing $8.5 million in assistance for the base.

Asked about reports of the base, China's foreign ministry said "we can assure that China does not have any military bases in Central Asia."

China has looked to build friendly relations with the Taliban following their takeover of Afghanistan, but has called on the group to crack down on Muslim-minority Uyghur separatists looking to infiltrate its sensitive border region of Xinjiang. While other Central Asian nations have established working ties with the new regime in Afghanistan, Tajikistan has railed against the hardliners and eschewed direct talks.

The republic's authoritarian leader Emomali Rakhmon expressed alarm about what he called "terrorist groups" positioned at points along its more than 1,300-kilometre border with the country.

Tajikistan, a country of 9.5 million, has received financial assistance from both China and the US to build and reinforce its border posts and hosts a major Russian base. China is also reported to maintain a joint military facility with Tajikistan in Gorno-Badakhshan. AFP

Thousands of Islamists march to Islamabad to pressure Imran govt

Supporters of banned TLP seek release of their leader and expulsion of French diplomat

LAHORE

TENS of thousands of supporters of a banned radical Islamist party in Pakistan took out a march towards Islamabad on Thursday to press the government of Prime Minister Imran Khan to release their party chief Saad Rizvi and expel the French ambassador.

The rally by members of the Tehreek-i-Labbaik Pakistan (TLP), which started after the government announced that it cannot meet its demand for the expulsion of the French ambassador, has reached Gujranwala, some 80 kms from here. Gujranwala is approximately 220 kms from Islamabad.

Life in the areas surrounding its route continues to remain disrupted as cellphone and internet services also remain suspended. Lahore's link to Rawalpindi and Islamabad has also been cut off from the GT Road.

"Police and Rangers are deployed on the route but unlike Wednesday, the law enforcers did not stop the TLP workers on the order from the top as some government functionaries have engaged its leadership in talks," a Punjab government official told PTI on Thursday.

For the time being, the government has changed its strategy in the wake of Wednesday's bloody clashes in which four policemen and as many TLP activities were killed and over 400 injured, including policemen, he said.

The Pakistan Railways has also announced that three trains between Lahore and Rawalpindi and Islamabad will remain suspended for Thursday for both inbound and outbound services.

The government has announced that protesters will not be allowed to reach Islamabad, the final destination of the TLP where it plans to hold a sit-in till the government accepted its demands.

TLP's founder late Khadim Rizvi's son Rizvi has been detained by the Punjab government since April last under the maintenance of 'public order' (MPO) following the party's protest against the blasphemous caricatures published in France and its demand that the French ambassador be sent back and import of goods from that country be banned.

The TLP had given a two-day deadline on Sunday to the government to meet its demands to release the party chief and expel the French envoy or face a sit-in in the capital. PTI

Priest summoned over remarks against intel

A senior Catholic priest in Sri Lanka has been summoned by the police for his alleged remarks that the country's intelligence units had extended financial and other assistance to the leader of a local jihadi group which carried out the deadly 2019 Easter Sunday attacks. Reverend Father Cyril Gamini was summoned by the police after a Colombo magistrate's court ordered the investigation based on a complaint filed by the head of the state intelligence service, Suresh Sallay. In his complaint, Sallay said during a Zoom forum held on October 23, Father Cyril alleged that Lanka's intelligence units had extended assistance to Zahran Hashim, the leader of National Thawheed Jamaat.

Military using systematic torture

Th Myanmar military is using systematic torture against pro-democracy protesters across the country, Associated Press reported after verfying photographic evidence, sketches and letters. The military, known as the Tatmadaw, and police have killed more than 1,200 people since February. While most of the torture has occurred inside military compounds, the Tatmadaw also has transformed public facilities such as community halls and a royal palace into interrogation centers, prisoners said. The AP identified a dozen interrogation centers in use across Myanmar, in addition to prisons and police lockups, based on interviews and satellite imagery.

Police in Laos make Asia's biggest-ever drug haul

BANGKOK

POLICE in the Southeast Asian nation of Laos have made Asia's biggest-ever drug busts, seizing more than 55.6 million methamphetamine pills in a single raid.

The drugs were found in the northern province of Bokeo, the state-run Vientiane Times newspaper reported on Thursday. The drugs were found Wednesday in sacks in a house that police searched after earlier discovering 10 million tablets hidden in beer crates on a truck on its way to the capital, Vientiane, the newspaper said in an online report.

Information from the truck driver led them to the house, where 65 bags of crystal methamphetamine, also known as ice, were also found, it said. Lao National Radio said they weighed a total of 1,537 kg. Two men were said to be under arrest. The newspaper said the Lao Brewery Company, the owner of the crates, issued a statement denying involvement in drug smuggling. "We are deeply disappointed that our crates have been abused as a cover for illegal activities," it quoted the statement as saying. On Monday, police found 6 million amphetamine tablets hidden in a pickup truck driving through the province, the newspaper said. Bokeo borders Thailand and Myanmar and is part of the Golden Triangle, a remote geographical area with a long history of involvement with illegal drug production and smuggling.

Laos is a key transit point for drugs from Myanmar, a major producer of methamphetamine, that go to Thailand, Vietnam and points beyond. AP

Pichai-led Alphabet's profit soars to over $18 billon

SAN FRANCISCO

GOOGLE'S parent company Alphabet announced profits on Wednesday that jumped to $18.9 billion, even as the online colossus faces increased regulatory pressure and shifting of the lockdown lifestyles that have so benefited Big Tech.

Google remains a centerpiece of online activity, with offerings such as its search engine, ad marketplace, and YouTube video platform that give it extensive global influence.

Alphabet revenue of $65.1 billion in the recently-ended quarter eclipsed the same period last year by some 41 per cent, according to the tech titan, as its online ad engine and cloud services thrived.

Fellow giant Facebook, despite its whistleblower scandal, has also announced whopping profits, as did Microsoft, although Twitter reported a large loss due to a shareholder lawsuit settlement.

"This quarter's results show how our (artificial intelligence) investments are enabling us to build more helpful products for people and our partners," said Sundar Pichai, CEO of Alphabet and Google.

The diplomats pledged their support for the now-deposed government of Prime Minister Abddalla Hamdok. Also fired by Gen Abdel-Fattah Buran late Wednesday were the Sudanese ambassadors to Qatar, China and the UN mission in Geneva, according to the official. The ambassadors were fired three days after Burhan dissolved the transitional government.

US president announces $1.75 tn social spending plan

WASHINGTON

US President Joe Biden declared on Thursday that he had reached a "historic economic framework" with Democratic lawmakers in Congress on his sweeping domestic policy package, a hard-fought yet dramatically scaled-back deal announced just before he departed for overseas summits.

Biden's remarks at the White House came after he travelled to Capitol Hill to make the case to House Democrats for the still-robust domestic package — $1.75 trillion of social services and climate change programs — that the White House believes can pass the 50-50 Senate.

"It will fundamentally change the lives of millions of people for the better," Biden said of the agreement, which he badly wanted before the summits to show the world American democracy still works

Together with a nearly $1 trillion bipartisan infrastructure bill heading for final votes possibly as soon as Thursday, Biden claimed a domestic achievement modeled on those of Franklin Roosevelt and Lyndon Johnson.

The revised package has lost some top priorities, frustrating many Democrats as the president's ambitions make way for the political realities of the narrowly divided Congress. Paid family leave and efforts to lower prescription drug pricing are now gone entirely from the package, drawing outrage from some lawmakers and advocates.

Still in the mix, a long list of other priorities: Free prekindergarten for all youngsters, expanded health care programs — including the launch of a $35 billion new hearing aid benefit for people with Medicare — and $555 billion to tackle climate change. There's also a one-year extension of a child care tax credit that was put in place during the Covid-19 rescue and new child care subsidies. AP

France seizes British boats amid fishing dispute

PARIS

FRENCH authorities fined two British fishing vessels and kept one in port overnight Thursday amid a worsening dispute over fishing licenses that has stoked tensions following the UK's departure from the European Union.

Britain's government warned France that it would it retaliate if French officials followed through on threats made late on Wednesday to block British boats from some French ports and tighten checks on UK vessels. France also suggested it might restrict energy supplies to the Channel Islands, British Crown dependencies that lie off the coast of France.

"We believe these are disappointing and disproportionate, and not what we'd expect from a close ally and partner," UK Environment Secretary George Eustice told lawmakers. "The measures being threatened do not appear to be compatible with the trade and cooperation agreement or wider international law, and if carried through will be met with an appropriate and calibrated response."

The French Sea Ministry said in a statement that the fines resulted from bolstered boating and license checks that are "part of the tightening of controls in the Channel, in the context of discussions on licenses with the United Kingdom and the European Commission."

"We have been extremely patient... Our fishermen have been extremely responsible," France's Europe minister, Clement Beaune, told French TV news channel CNews. "And so, from November 2, it's over. We will engage in dialogue if the British want to, but we are taking retaliatory measures."

As part of the retaliatory measures, France "doesn't exclude" actions that would target energy supplies to Britain, Beaune and French Minister of the Sea Annick Girardin said in a joint statement. AFP

FISHING FOR TROUBLE

A smouldering row between London and Paris over post-Brexit fishing rights flared up Wednesday. But tensions have been building up for weeks

FIGHT OVER LICENCE	PERMIT REFUSED
Under the post-Brexit deal on fishing, EU fishermen wishing to access British seas had to apply for new licences which would be granted providing they could prove that they had worked in British waters in previous years	France has been incensed by the rejection of dozens of French boats by Britain, as well as by the self-governing Channels islands of Jersey and Guernsey, which depend on London for defence and foreign affairs
Britain has granted nearly 1,700 licences to EU boats to fish in waters classed as being part of its exclusive economic zone, meaning those 12-200 nautical miles from the coast	After weeks of negotiations, British authorities have issued more fishing licenses, but the number still only accounts for 50% of what France believes it "is entitled to," French government spokesman Gabriel Attal said Wednesday
The tension is over licences to operate in Britain's fish-rich territorial waters, which lie 6-12 nautical miles from the coast, as well as the waters close to Jersey	Britain disputes that. The government says it has granted 98% of fishing license applications from European vessels, but there is a dispute over 31 vessels which the UK says did not supply evidence to support their applications

French fishermen have rights, a deal was signed and we must implement this deal

OIL EXECS COUNTER DISINFORMATION CLAIMS IN U.S. HEARING

WASHINGTON

EXXON MOBIL'S chief executive said on Thursday that his company does not spread disinformation regarding climate change as he and other oil company chiefs countered congressional allegations the industry concealed evidence about the dangers of global warming.

Testifying at a landmark House hearing, CEO Darren Woods said ExxonMobil "has long acknowledged the reality and risks of climate change, and it has devoted significant resources to addressing those risks. The oil giant's public statements on climate "are and have always been truthful, fact-based ...", Woods said.

Democrats immediately challenged the statements by Woods and other oil executives, accusing them of engaging in a decades-long, industry-wide campaign to spread disinformation about the contribution of fossil fuels to global warming.

"They are obviously lying like the tobacco executives were,'' said Democratic lawmaker Carolyn Maloney. She was referring to a 1994 hearing with tobacco executives who famously testified that they didn't believe nicotine was addictive. The reference was one of several to the tobacco hearing as Democrats sought to pin down oil executives on whether they believe in climate change and that burning fossil fuels such as oil contributes to global warming. The hearing comes after months of public efforts by Democrats to obtain documents on the oil industry's role in stopping climate action over multiple decades.

"Do you agree that (climate change) is an existential threat? Yes or no?" Maloney asked Shell Oil President Gretchen Watkins. "I agree this is a defining challenge for our generation, absolutely,'' Watkins replied. Watkins, Woods and other oil executives agreed with Maloney on the existence and threat posed by climate change, but refused her request to pledge that their companies would not spend money. AP

Markets witness steepest fall in 6 months

Downgrading of Indian equities by Morgan Stanley triggers selling by FIIs; ₹4.82 lakh cr investors' wealth wiped out

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

THE bears made a strong comeback on Dalal Street on Thursday and dragged India's equity market benchmark indices - Sensex and Nifty50- by nearly 2%, their biggest single-day fall in six months.

The Nifty50 closed 1.9% lower at 17,857.25 as it broke below its 20-day moving average of around 18,000 points while the Sensex lost 1,158 points to close the day at 59,984.7. This was its biggest drop since April 12 this year, when the 30-share index had plunged 1,708 points.

The fresh bloodbath wiped out investors' wealth by ₹4.82 lakh crore in a single day, with the market capitalisation of all BSE-listed firms falling to ₹260.48 lakh crore.

"Relentless selling by FIIs (foreign institutional investors) is a key reason for this correction in the market. Today, Morgan Stanley downgraded India to equal-weight due to outperformance by Indian markets in recent months. Inflation and slowdown in global growth momentum are other concerns amid expensive valuations," said Santosh Meena, Head of Research, Swastika Investmart.

Binod Modi, Head - Strategy at Reliance Securities, said that in their view, in addition to weak global cues, unwinding of long positions especially in financials on F&O expiry, which had seen sharp rally in recent period were the prime reasons for the correction.

Morgan Stanley on Thursday downgraded domestic equities from 'overweight' (OW) to 'equalweight' (EW) and recommended taking some money off the table. "We move tactically EW on India equities after strong relative gains. We expect a structural multi-year earnings recovery, but at 24 times forward (P/E) we look for some consolidation ahead of Fed tapering, an RBI hike in February and higher energy costs," Morgan Stanley said in a note on Asia Pacific markets.

In recent times, HSBC, UBS, Nomura and Jefferies have increased weightage to China and other Asian markets, while raising concerns over India's expensive valuations. Benchmark indices in India have risen more than 25% this year on account of easy money and increased retail participation, raising concerns of overvaluations.

Ajit Mishra, VP - Research, Religare Broking, said that this fall in the index has derailed the recent recovery and "we may see a further slide in the following sessions".

IRCTC stock to take a hit on revenue sharing move

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

INDIAN Railways Catering and Tourism Corporation's (IRCTC), which provides ticketing and catering to the Indian Railways, has been asked by the government to share revenues generated from convenience fees for bookings made on its website on a 50:50 basis from November 1, 2021. The decision is expected to have adverse impact on the company's stock.

"In compliance with the Regulation 30 of SEBI Regulations,2015, it is to be informed that Ministry of Railways vide above-referred letter has conveyed its decision to share the revenue earned from convenience fee collected by IRCTC in the ratio of 50: 50 w.e.f 1st November 2021," IRCTC said in a regulatory filing.

Some analysts pegs the convenience fee for IRCTC at ₹740-₹780 crore for FY23 and FY24, respectively. "Sharing 50% of revenue with Railways would mean that the EBIT margin of ticketing division would fall from 85% to 48% in FY23/FY24," says an analyst.

Correspondingly, the EPS estimate cut would be in the region of 28-27% to ₹44-₹49 for FY23/FY24, respectively. Shriram Subramanian, MD of proxy advisory firm Ingovern, said this is an ideal case for a class action suit against the President of India, the majority shareholder.

Amit Tandon, MD of proxy advisory firm IiAS, said the suddenness of the decision will have shareholders feeling shortchanged.

Gaurav Garg, Head of Research, CapitalVia Global Research, said that the news is negative for the shareholders of the company as a major chunk of revenue would go out of company's books and will impact the valuation.

This announcement came on the day when share price of IRCTC gained 11% to ₹923 as the stock traded ex-split.

A turnaround in its EU operations and profitability in the mid-teens are expected to be structural and sustainable. India likely to see sharp spike in gold demand in 4th quarter of 2021: WGC

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

INDIA could see a significant rise in gold demand in the Q4 of 2021, with the World Gold Council anticipating it to be the busiest gold-buying season since the start of Covid.

"Looking ahead with restrictions being gradually lifted across the country, retail demand is bouncing back to pre-Covid levels. With the upcoming festive and wedding season, there is all the more enthusiasm towards gold demand, and we anticipate it to be the busiest gold-buying season since the start of covid," Somasundaram PR, Regional CEO, India, World Gold Council (WGC), said in a statement.

Demand for gold in India was up by 47% at 139.1 tonne in the third quarter of 2021 as compared to overall demand in the year-ago period at 94.6 tonne. The jump in gold demand in the third quarter reflects a combination of low base effect and return of positive trade and consumer sentiments, according to PR.

"This is primarily driven by what appears to be a firm grip on the pandemic with higher vaccination rates and falling infection rates, leading to a strong rebound in economic activity," he said.

The gold jewellery demand in India increased by 58% to 96.2 tonne, owing to softer gold prices. PR further noted that trade activity witnessed during various buyer-seller meets and anecdotal feedback from manufacturers indicate that this Q4 festive season could be the best in several years, with strong imports (255.6 tonne, an 187% increase over last year) much ahead of Q3 demand.

A 50% drop in gold recycling at 20.7 tonne also underlines strong consumer intent to hold gold rather than sell it, he said, adding, "While we have not made any forecast for the rest of the year, barring any unexpected twist in tale, we could see a sharp spike in demand in Q4 2021."

QUARTERLY RESULTS

INDIGO'S LOSSES NARROW SEQUENTIALLY

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

INTERGLOBE Aviation Limited — which operates IndiGo — the country's biggest airline on Thursday reported a net loss of ₹1,435.6 crore for the September quarter (Q2FY22), compared to a loss of ₹1,194.80 crore in the corresponding quarter last year.

Sequentially, however, it witnessed a big improvement as the airline posted a loss of ₹3,179 crore in the Covid-19-hit June-ended quarter.

The company's profitability in the last quarter was significantly hit by rising fuel expenses. Interglobe's aircraft fuel expenses in the quarter soared 207.8% year-on-year to ₹1,989 crore.

The company also reported significant improvement on the revenue side, with revenue from operations in the second quarter of the current fiscal stood at ₹5,608 crore, compared to ₹2,741 crore in the same quarter last year.

IndiGo CEO Ronojoy Dutta said, "We are encouraged by the pace of revenue recovery. We continue to work towards return to profitability in order to strengthen our balance sheet. With a modern fleet, dedicated employees and a stronger economic environment, we are well positioned to leverage all the growth opportunities around us."

IOB shows improvement across all indicators post RBI's PCA restrictions

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

INDIAN Overseas Bank (IOB) is making a strong comeback after it came out of Prompt Corrective Action (PCA) restrictions of the Reserve Bank of India (RBI).

In the recently announced second quarter results, the Chennai-based bank not only showed improvement in asset quality and capital adequacy parameters, it also showed improvement in other key ratios and profitability indicators.

The net interest income – the difference between interest earned on loans given and interest on liabilities – rose 9.11% quarter-on-quarter and 4.6% year-on-year to ₹1,633 crore in September quarter.

The operating profit jumped 18% to ₹1419 crore on the back of higher interest and non-interest income and a 3.75% drop in expenses. The staff expense of the bank fell by 10% year-on-year. Its net profit increased 15% to ₹376 crore compared to ₹327 crore.

States get balance ₹44k cr as GST compensation

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Centre on Thursday said it has released ₹44,000 crore to states and union territories as compensation for revenue shortfall, thus paying them the entire ₹1.59 lakh crore promised for this fiscal year.

"After taking into account earlier release of ₹1,15,000 crore (₹75,000 crore released on 15th July, 2021 and ₹40,000 crore released on 7th October, 2021), total amount released in the current financial year as back-to-back loan in-lieu of GST compensation is ₹1,59,000 crore. This release is in addition to normal GST compensation being released every 2 months out of actual cess collection," finance ministry said in a statement.

The centre added this front-loading of the fund transfer is meant to help states to carry out Covid management and plan capital expenditure needed to support growth.

"It is expected that this release will help the states/Union territories in planning their public expenditure among other things, for improving, health infrastructure and taking up infrastructure projects," said the statement.

The finance ministry added this amount of ₹1.59 lakh crore would be over and above the compensation in excess of ₹1 lakh crore (based on cess collection) that is estimated to be released to states/UTs with legislature during this financial year. The sum total of ₹2.59 lakh crore is expected to exceed the amount of GST compensation accruing in FY22.

DLF Q2 net profit jumps 66% to `378 crore

The company's net profit stood at ₹227.75 crore in the year-ago period. Total income, however, declined to ₹1,556.53 crore in the second quarter of the current fiscal from ₹1,723.09 crore in the corresponding period of the previous year. DLF's Whole Time Director and CEO Ashok Kumar Tyagi said, "We believe our quality offerings across our completed inventory, growing new product pipeline coupled with a fortified balance sheet has placed the company in a unique position to scale up and leverage this growth cycle."

Fine with taking knee, ready to play: De Kock

South African star Quinton de Kock on Thursday made himself available for his team's remaining matches of the T20 World Cup, saying he is fine taking a knee if it "educates others" and that he was deeply hurt at being called a racist for refusing to make the gesture earlier. He pulled out of South Africa's match against the West Indies in Dubai on Tuesday.

LOOKING AT THREE-SPIN ATTACK

With dew factor in play on slow pitches in evening, India likely to play safe against New Zealand on Sunday

VENKATA KRISHNA B @Chennai

FLEXIBLE and selection based on conditions in the bowling department, and picking the right combination that would suit the surface have turned India's biggest strength over the years. The presence of a good crop of pacers and spinners to go with the variety they bring in has allowed India the freedom to do so without worrying too much about the end result. As they prepare to take on New Zealand in a crucial Group 2 game in Super 12s at the T20 World Cup, India are keeping their options open of playing three spinners so that it takes toss, pitch, and dew factor out of the equation.

In a tournament where they are the hosts, India have been handicapped because of external factors like scheduling, which sees them play all their matches during the prime-time, that is evening. While it ensures India won't play any matches in the unforgiving afternoon heat, their matches in the evening pose a different threat — the dew, especially in the second half of the innings. In each of the evening matches, teams winning the toss have preferred to chase and have come out on top.

With toss and conditions not in control, teams batting first have been at a disadvantage even before a ball is bowled. And unless teams get a total in the excess of 160, it just gets easy for the teams batting second to chase even on those slow pitches. Prior to the T20 World Cup, India's plan centered around spinners, a reason they picked as many as five in their squad before the uncertainty over Hardik Pandya's ability to bowl, made them include Shardul Thakur in place of Axar Patel. And Washington Sundar's absence – a bowler they had earmarked as one for powerplay – was a big blow.

As India await New Zealand in a crucial match, where they need a win to avoid tricky permutation and combinations, they are exploring the possibility of including three spinners in their XI for the match in Dubai. Off-spinner Ravichandran Ashwin could come in place of Mohammed Shami or Bhuvneshwar Kumar as India believe spin would be decisive factor against this Kiwi batting line-up.

By this India believe it will help them field their strongest XI and have an attack that will suit the condition, irrespective of dew factor should they bowl second.

With the second innings beginning around 7.30 pm local time, one of their spinners can easily bowl in the powerplay before the dew sets in. And by this it will also ensure New Zealand's batting line-up face spin from one end for a major part of the innings.

Had Pandya been fit, this would have been India's template from the word go. But his fitness was always a concern.

FIGHT TO SURVIVE

West Indies and Bangladesh go into their game needing to win to survive. Pakistan would look to keep the momentum going against Afghanistan.

WINDIES EYE COMEBACK

Back-to-back defeats has put defending champions West Indies on the backfoot. Batting has been an area of concern, especially their shambolic performance against England. While there was an improved show against South Africa in their last match, they still ended up on the losing side.

LAST CHANCE FOR TIGERS

Inconsistency has crippled Bangladesh thus far in the competition. Their form has meant that they have won just two in five games and in danger of an exit. Against a big-hitting side like the Windies, their bowlers will have to be disciplined to keep opponents at bay in such a crucial contest.

PAK BOWLERS IN FOCUS

Pakistan is flying high after beating India and New Zealand and they are the favourites against Afghanistan. The pacers will once again be expected to deliver and the batsmen are expected to complement them. However, fielding is an area they can improve to get even better.

NO CALL ON WOMEN'S COACH, BHATT IN MIX

FLIP SIDE

INDRANEEL DAS

What is happening in Indian boxing? Somehow, things are not as streamlined as it used to be before the Olympics. To be precise, when Late RK Sacheti was at the helm as executive director, taking decisions was never an issue. There was no clarity over the men's coaching staff with less than a month for the ongoing World Championships to commence. Just before the commencement of the national camp in October, the Boxing Federation of India constituted a team of coaches and support staff. What was heartening to see was the names of former stars in the team, who'll instill fresh ideas on boxers. M Suranjoy Singh and Devendro Singh are such names.

What seems intriguing and irksome is that the BFI is yet to announce a coaching team for the senior women's team. It's three months after the Olympics now. That they could not announce the names before the nationals point towards either lack of clarity or confusion. There have been talks of appointing Bhaskar Bhatt as the head coach. However, it needs to be seen what role Mohammed Ali Qamar plays in the current dispensation. He is one of the coaches who has returned with a medal from the Olympics. Interestingly, Bhatt, who is a Sports Authority of India coach, was with the youth women's team. Many boxers, who won medals at the just-concluded women's nationals in Hisar, were his trainees.

The BFI apparently has been discussing a few names but Bhatt seems to be the frontrunner. However, with five of the 12 gold winners from Railways, there is pressure on BFI to accommodate Railways coaches. Incidentally, Ali Qamar is a Railways coach and is still performing some of the duties of a head coach. Some of the coaches, who were part of the Railways team, also felt they should have a representative in the team after their dominant show during the nationals. There is Services team, too, that is trying to get in.

There was no ambiguity over the selection of the women's team after the BFI announced that all gold medallists, barring Lovlina Borgohain's weight category, would automatically make it to the World Championships. The BFI was quite clear that this is the last time they are making an exception for Lovlina. Whether MC Mary Kom would also be included on the list needs to be seen. Going by men's coaching staff, the women's team, too, would be expected to have some known faces.

It's chance to inspire youth back home: Wiese

MARTIN JOSEPH @Kochi

SOUTH AFRICAN cricketer Quinton de Kock released a statement on Thursday after the uproar over his decision to opt-out of the game against West Indies over his unwillingness to take a knee in the fight against racism.

The whole incident created a major controversy but Namibian cricketer David Wiese who is of South African origin feels De Kock has put the issue to bed. De Kock apologised to his teammates and clarified he was ready to take the knee in the upcoming matches.

"He has given his reasons and you have to expect as a player that is the way he feels about it. He made a statement and he has put it to bed and everyone now knows the reasons behind what he did. He has come out and said his reasons and it is all personal reasons and every single person out there has got own belief and own stand against it. For me, the most important thing is, whatever you do, you have to do it as a team. Team has got to stand in unity," said Wiese during a media interaction.

Wiese is currently busy being part of Namibia's charge in the maiden T20 World Cup participation. The team managed to script a memorable win over Scotland in their Super 12 game and he feels playing in the World Cup is massive for the nation.

Australia's David Warner hit a quick-fire fifty to help team beat Sri Lanka | AFP

Australia cruise to victory

DUBAI: Australia registered a seven-victory over Sri Lanka in a group league match of the T20 World Cup on Thursday. David Warned hit a 42-ball 65 to help them chase down a tricky target of 155. Earlier Mitchell Starc bowled the "ball of the tournament" as Australia engineered a mid-innings collapse but couldn't stop Sri Lanka from posting a decent total. Starc bowled a brilliant comeback delivery in the form of a vicious inswinging yorker after being hit for a six which saw the end of Kusal Perera (35 off 25 balls) as Sri Lanka lost four quick wickets for 16 runs to slump to 94 for 5. Bhanuka Rajapaksa then launched into Australian attack's weak-link Marcus Stoinis (0/35 in 3 overs) to get Sri Lanka back on track. Brief scores: SL 154/6 in 20 ovs (Perera 35, Asalanka 35; Zampa 2/12) lost to Aus 155/3 in 17 ovs (Warner 65, Finch 37).

Players keen to go back to IPL auction pool

VENKATA KRISHNA B @Chennai

EVEN as the Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) is close to finalising the retention rules for franchises, many of India's top players are ready to test waters at the IPL auction. With two new teams inducted into the league, a big auction is lined up, which could take place in December or January.

As things stand, the chances of franchises getting four players to retain are high with two new teams allowed to pick up to three players through a draft system before the auction begins. With regards to retention, teams have been told informally by the BCCI that they can retain either three Indians and one overseas player or two Indians and two overseas players. With regards to right-to-match card (RTM), a consensus has not been reached with some franchises keen on continuing and others against it. The BCCI too believes RTM should be done away with as two new teams are in fray.

While retaining players will undoubtedly leave other two teams weaker at the auction pool, the BCCI has decided to introduce a draft system for Lucknow and Ahmedabad alone. According to an official privy to developments, once the other eight franchises decide on their retention list and release other players into the auction pool, the two new teams will be allowed to pick up to three players in a draft system. Lucknow will get the first pick because they made the highest bid. The two teams will be allowed to pick two Indian and one overseas players as the BCCI is still formulating what the retention fee will be for each of these players including ones who will be retained. The final say on retention is on the players and for those who are picked at the draft, the consent of the player will be sought before signing.

These are likely to be finalised in the coming days and several top players are understood to be keen on being released by their respective franchises. While the likes of Virat Kohli, Devdutt Padikkal, Rohit Sharma, Jasprit Bumrah, Ishan Kishan, Rishabh Pant, Prithvi Shaw, Ravindra Jadeja, Ruturaj Gaikwad are set to be retained, others could find themselves back in the auction pool. According to an official, several Indian players are understood to be waiting for the BCCI to finalise the retention fee before deciding whether they will be part of the auction or not. At least one franchise found it hard to convince one of their top Indian players to stay back and has come to the acceptance that he won't continue. Two other teams are still negotiating with their players and remain hopeful that they will agree. There are also whispers that one of the leading franchises may spring a surprise and release their star player if it decides to build a team with an eye on the future. The said player is already of big interest to the Lucknow franchise.

The reason why many are keen on going back to the auction pool is that in case they happen to be the third player on retainer list, they stand to earn not more than ₹8 crore as there are two more teams. But given it is a bigger auction and teams have to build a full squad, they may not fetch a big amount. In recent times, the costliest ones have all been from the mini-auctions.

Bayern suffer historic 5-0 loss in German Cup

AGENCIES @Berlin

BAYERN Munich usually deals out the thrashings in Germany, not the other way around.

The Bavarian powerhouse got a taste of its own medicine on Wednesday when Borussia Monchengladbach knocked Bayern out of the German Cup with a fully deserved 5-0 victory in front of its ecstatic fans.

It was Bayern's biggest-ever defeat in the competition and its heaviest loss in 43 years, since a 7-1 Bundesliga defeat at Fortuna D'sseldorf on December 9, 1978.

Bayern conceded five goals in the German Cup for the first time since the 2012 final, when Borussia Dortmund wrapped up a domestic league and cup double with a 5-2 win. Bayern responded by winning the league, cup and Champions League treble the following year and every league title since.

NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS

First natl gold for Sambhavv, easy win for Sajan

AGENCIES @Bengaluru

IT was a day to remember for teenager Sambhavv R. In the absence of Olympian Srihari Nataraj, the swimmer from Karnataka stole the show with a sensational effort in the men's 50m freestyle in the ongoing senior national aquatic championships here on Thursday.

Sambhavv, who trains at the Bangalore Swimmers Research Centre under coach Jairajan, clocked 23.65 seconds to claim the top prize, his first-ever yellow metal at this level.

Maharashtra's Mihir Ambre, who clocked 23.76 seconds, had to settle for the second spot. Heer Shah, also of Maharashtra, touched the pad at 23.93 seconds to clinch the bronze medal.

Medal ceremony of 50m freestyle for men. L-R Heer Shah, Sambhavv R & Mihir Ambre

This high for Sambhavv comes after a good run during the recently-held junior championships, where he had won four gold and a bronze medal. That happy run during the junior meet had spurred him to put up a strong show on Thursday. While the race was very close between five swimmers who all clocked within 24 second-mark, Sambhavv came up with a perfect finish to clinch the gold. "I was quite confident of doing well. I had timed 23.5 seconds in the junior nationals last week to win the race so I was pretty sure I had a strong chance. I thought Srihari (Nataraj) would take part in this event, and I was expecting him to be my toughest competition, but he didn't take part," said Sambhavv.

"This is my second appearance at the senior meet but it's my first gold medal so I'm really happy even though this is not my personal best time," an elated Sambhavv added.

In the 200m men's butterfly, two-time Olympian Sajan Prakash was in a different league as he won the top prize with a margin of over five seconds.

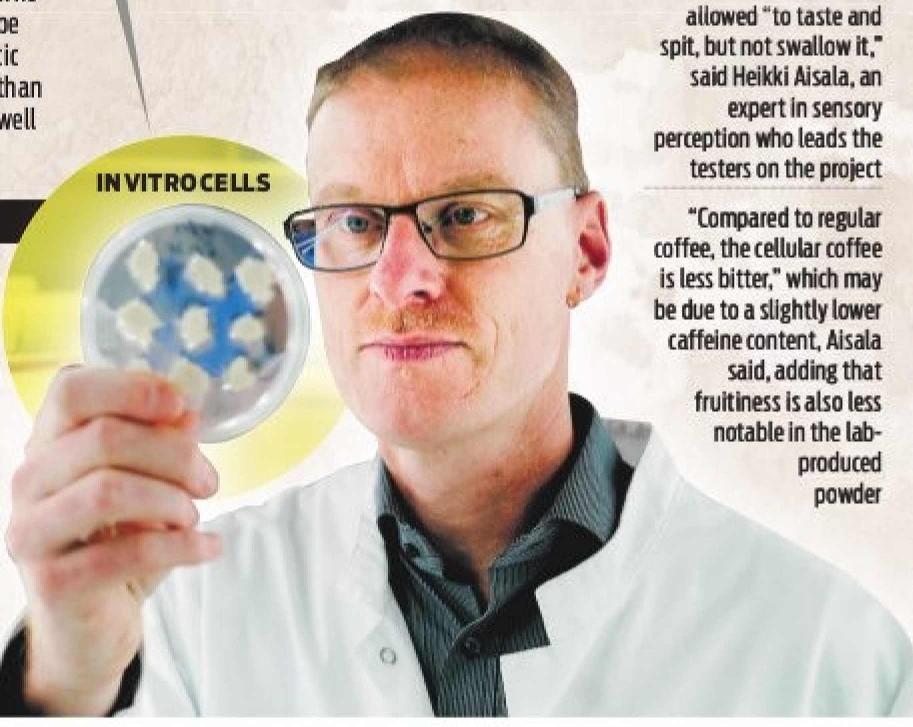
Would you like some lab-grown coffee?

Latte drinkers may in the future be sipping on java sourced from a petri dish rather than a plantation, said scientists from the Finnish research insitute VTT, who are behind a new technique to grow what they hope to be sustainable coffee in a lab. The new, futuristic coffee would use less labour and fewer resources than conventional coffee. We look at how it's made as well as the current status of world's coffee production

Sustainably grown coffee once the process is finished in the laboratory

WHAT'S IN THIS LAB COFFEE?

1. The coffee is not ground from beans, but instead grown from a cluster of coffee plant cells under closely controlled temperature, light and oxygen conditions in a bioreactor
2. Once roasted, the powder can be brewed in exactly the same way as conventional coffee
3. Researchers use the same principles of cellular agriculture that are used to produce lab-grown meat, which does not involve the slaughter of livestock



TASTE TEST

For coffee lovers, the key to the success of the lab-grown variety will be in its taste — but so far only a specially trained panel of sensory analysts are authorised to try the new brew because of its status as a "novel food"

For now, they are only allowed "to taste and spit, but not swallow it," said Heikki Aisala, an expert in sensory perception who leads the testers on the project

"Compared to regular coffee, the cellular coffee is less bitter," which may be due to a slightly lower caffeine content, Aisala said, adding that fruitiness is also less notable in the lab-produced powder

OTHER SUSTAINABLE ALTERNATIVES

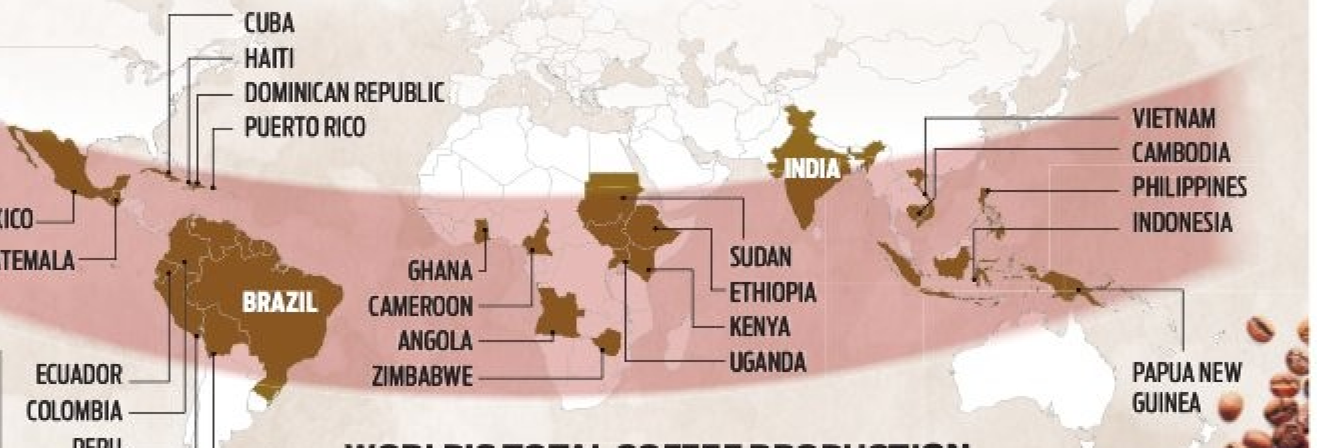
Atomo, a Seattle startup, in Sept said it had raised $11.5 million in funding for its "molecular coffee", which has the same flavour makeup as the drink, but originates from organic material other than a coffee plant. But surveys in the coffee-loving countries have suggested widespread public wariness towards lab-grown food substitutes

PROBLEMS WITH COFFEE

Rising global temperatures makes existing plantations less productive, driving farmers to clear ever larger areas of rainforest for new crops

BEAN BELT

WHERE IS COFFEE PRODUCED? IN THE REGION NICKNAMED "BEAN BELT", WHICH LIES BETWEEN THE TROPICS OF CAPRICORN & CANCER AND WHOSE CLIMATES ARE SUITABLE FOR COFFEE CULTIVATION



Livelihood

More than 75% of coffee in the Bean Belt is produced by small farmers, and a shift to lab-made products could hit livelihoods

CHINA VOWS TO PEAK CO_2 EMISSIONS BEFORE 2030

Revised plan submitted to United Nations 3 days ahead of COP26 Summit in Glasgow formalises pledges made by Xi, with some improvements

CLIMATE

BEIJING: China, by far the world's largest polluter, on Thursday renewed its emissions cutting plan with a promise to peak carbon pollution before 2030.

Beijing's new submission to the United Nations, just days before the COP26 summit, also confirmed its goal to achieve carbon neutrality before 2060 and slash its emissions intensity by more than 65%. The new submissions commit China to peaking its emissions before 2030, rather than around 2030 as pledged before, the New Scientist reported.

China is responsible for more than a quarter of all manmade emissions, and had previously promised, under a process set in motion by the 2015 Paris climate deal, to reach net-zero by 2060.

Under the landmark accord, nations are required to submit renewed emissions-cutting pledges -- known as Nationally Determined Contributions, or NDCs -- every five years.

China had been a major holdout in renewing its plans to curb emissions, and it was hoped its new submission could build momentum ahead of the delayed COP26 summit in Glasgow, which begins on Sunday.

According to its renewed NDC, published on the UN's climate change website, it will increase its share of non-fossil fuels in primary energy consumption to 25 per cent, up from the 20 per cent previously pledged. It also plans to increase its forest stock by six billion cubic metres compared with 2005 levels and "bring its total installed capacity of wind and solar power to over 1.2 billion kilowatts by 2030".

However it was not immediately clear how Beijing plans to draw down its emissions in line with what science says is needed to avoid catastrophic levels of heating this century.

"China's new climate commitment under the Paris agreement turns the 2060 carbon neutrality target and CO2 emissions peak before 2030 into new formal pledges, but doesn't shed more light on the emissions trajectory over this decade," Lauri Myllyvirta, lead analyst at the Centre for Research on Energy and Clean Air, said on Twitter.

Li Shuo, an analyst with Greenpeace Asia, said China's new NDC "missed an opportunity to demonstrate ambition".

"China's decision on its NDC casts a shadow on the global climate effort," he tweeted.

> The planet can't afford this being the last word. Beijing needs to come up with stronger implementation plans to ensure an emission peak before 2025
>
> Li Shuo, Greenpeace Asia

China has been accused of sidestepping calls to stop building new coal-fired power plants, the single largest source of carbon pollution.

The UN says greenhouse gas emissions need to be cut nearly in half by 2030 to keep the most ambitious Paris temperature goal of 1.5C in play.

This week it said countries' latest pledges put Earth on course to warm 2.7C this century. Its Emissions Gap report also called on countries to start slashing emissions immediately and to align their net-zero plans with the 1.5C pathway.

10 key forests release more CO_2: Study

CLIMATE

ABUJA: Sites containing some of the world's most treasured forests, including the Yosemite National Park and Indonesia's Sumatra rainforest, have been emitting more heat-trapping carbon dioxide than they have absorbed in recent years, a UN-backed report said.

According to the report released Thursday, factors like logging, wildfires and clearance of land for agriculture are to blame. The excess carbon turns up from just 10 of 257 forests classified among UNESCO World Heritage sites.

The Switzerland-based International Union for Conservation of Nature and UNESCO, the U.N.'s cultural and educational agency, said their report provides the first-ever assessment of greenhouse gases produced and absorbed in UNESCO-listed forests. The study was based on info collected through on-site monitoring and from satellites.

US reconsiders gifted edu amid talks of bias

EDUCATION

COMMUNITIES across the United States are reconsidering their approach to gifted and talented programmes in schools as vocal parents blame such elite programmes for worsening racial segregation and inequities in the education system.

A plan announced by New York City's mayor to phase out elementary school gifted and talented programmes in the country's largest school district — if it proceeds — would be among the most significant developments yet in a push that extends from Boston to Seattle and that has stoked passions and pain over race, inequality and access to a decent education.

From the start, gifted and talented school programmes drew worries they would produce an educational caste system in US public schools. Many of the exclusive programmes trace their origins to efforts to stanch "white flight" from public schools, particularly in diversifying urban areas, by providing high-caliber educational programmes that could compete with private or parochial schools.

Increasingly, parents and school boards are grappling with difficult questions over equity, as they discuss how to accommodate the educational aspirations of advanced learners while nurturing other students so they can equally thrive. It's a quandary that is driving the debate over whether to expand gifted and talented programmes or abolish them altogether.

"I get the burn-it-down and tear-it-down mentality, but what do we replace it with?" asked Marcia Gentry, a professor of education and the director of the Gifted Education Research and Resource Institute at Purdue University.
